Albuquerque Editor Wounds Former District Judge Leahy, His Political Enemy, and Kills Peacemaker Following Fist Fight At East Las Vegas Hotel.

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., Aug. 22. — (By the Associated Press)—Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque editor, today was faced with first degree murder charges in New Mexico courts in which he gained national prominence during the last two years as defendant in the now famous "Magee libel and contempt cases."

The charge was filed by the district attorney late last night and a criminal warrant served on the editor by Sheriff Lorenzo Delgado as Magee lay in a bed in the Meadows hotel, bruised from his encounter last night in the hotel lobby with former Judge David J. The first shot fired by Magee felled Lassetter and the second shattered the former jurist's arm.

Eight eye witnesses, questioned by Assistant District Attorney T. V. Truder, told practically the same story of the fatal encounter, and the formal filing of murder charges followed.

Eye witnesses declared that Magee was seated on a divan in the lobby conversing with newspaper reporters when W. S. Patterson, a former employe of Magee, entered and began talking to him.

Magee, Patterson and a newspaper woman said, noted Leahy's entrance with the remark: "There's Leahy."

Witnesses declared Magee had dropped his left hand into his coat pocket and continued the conversation with the woman as Patterson backed away.

Leahy then approached the divan, witnesses said, and struck Magee on the cheek, knocking him from the seat. As Magee struggled to his feet, witnesses declared, Leahy kicked him in the ribs.

Magee then drew a .25 calibre pistol and fired as Lassetter seized Leahy's arms. The shot struck Lassetter in the throat, causing an internal hemorrhage which quickly brought death.

A second shot struck Leahy's arm, shattering the upper bone.

The former judge then turned and walked from the lobby unassisted.

Magee fell sobbing on the divan and Lassetter, lying on the floor nearby, died within a few minutes.

A coroner's jury was empanelled immediately, viewed Lassetter's body in a local mortuary and at the request of the assistant district attorney, adjourned until 9 o'clock today when Magee was expected to be present with attorneys, R. ONE ESCAPED CONVICT HELD IN WASHINGTON

Tom Murray, Oregon Prison Inmate, Who Fled During The Killing Of Two Guards, Captured By Ruse At Centralia Hotel.

A PORTLAND MECHANIC OUTWITS FLEEING MAN

Prisoner Submits To Arrest Without Resistance When Covered With Revolvers—Refuses To Talk Of Companions' Whereabouts.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tom Murray, escaped killer from Oregon state penitentiary at Salem, was captured by a ruse at 12::15 a. m., today, in the Savoy hotel here.

Philip Carson, 26, Portland mechanic, recognized Murray in Vancouver, Wash., last night, and persuaded the convict to accompany him to Centralia where he pretended they would rob a roadhouse.

Murray, who helped plot and execute the penitentiary break August 12, last, hoped by the robbery, suggested to him by Carson, to get sufficient money to enable him to travel east, Carson told the police. He had separated from James Willos and Ellsworth Kelley, convicts who were associated with him in the escape, at White Salmon, Wash., and had agreed to meet them at a designated place in the east.

After taking Murray to a room in the hotel, Carson went to the police station and called on Mayor George Barbar, arranging for him and a policeman to call at the hotel. Returning to his room, he told Murray the two men, who were waiting outside, were to assist in the holdup and prevailed on him to leave the room and go outside to receive an introduction.

Submits to Arrest.

Mayor Barbar and the patrolman covered Murray with their revolvers immediately after they had shaken hands with him and he submitted to arrest without resistance.

Murray was placed under a heavy guard at the jail and refused to discuss his case or say where Willos and Kelley are.

After their escape in the spectacular break that cost the lives of two guards and in which "Oregon Bert" Jones, notorious bandit, was slain attempting a getaway, the three men signed and finger printed a statement of the killing of the guards.

The document, written by Murray and attested by the other two, was

DOT ELLINGSON CASE TO JURY

Fate Of 17-Year-Old Girl, Charged With Slaying Her Mother, Given To Seven Women and Five Men Saturday Morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(I. N. S.) — Dorothy Ellingson's fate was placed in the hands of the jury today.

The seven women and five men, who will determine it filed out of the courtroom to deliberate at 10:09 a. m., after they had been instructed by Judge Louderback as to the questions involved in the trial of the 17-year-old girl for the murder of her mother.

The charge to the jury required thirty-five minutes.

As Judge Louderback propounded the law and explained the various verdicts which the jury may return. Dorothy rocked back and forth in the swivel chair she occupied beside her counsel and listened intently to every word. She looked at the jury sharply as they filed out.

Judge Louderback told the jury they could return a verdict of murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree or manslaughter, or on the other hand a verdict of "not guilty" or "not guilty by reason of insanity."

"I'm so glad its all over,' was the only comment the girl made.

Attorney Walter McGovern announced that if a favorable verdict was returned he would immediately ask the court to have the girl remanded to a juvenile home.

SUSPECT IS NOT ESCAPED CONVICT

Man Brought Here From Milford But Proves Not To Be Emerson.

A man at first thought to be Richard Emerson, state penitentiary convict, who escaped over the prison walls early last Wednesday morning, was brought to Lincoln today to be identified by the prison officials. The man resembled Emerson in measurements and scars but Warden Fenton declared he is not the escaped convict.

The man gave his name as Ray Collins when arrested by Deputy Sheriff Runty of Seward county. Later, when brought to Lincoln, he changed it to Roy Jackson. He was arrested late Friday night near Milford as a suspect in the burglary of the farm house of Fred Page, 11 miles southwest of Lincoln Friday morning.

He was identified by C. B. Green, a neighbor, as the man with whom he had talked shortly before the robbery is believed to have been committed. It is alleged that Collins stole $23 and some food from the Page house. He is said to have admitted the theft and to have returned a part of the money.

PIRATES AND GIANTS CLASH

PIRATES TAKE FIRST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.) — Pittsburgh took the first game of a doubleheader with New York today, 8 to 1, increasing its advantage on first place in the National league race to four games.

Bunched hits in the fourth inning when two runs were scored, put the game on ice for the Pirates, who polished off the game in the ninth by chasing Barnes out of the box under a barrage of five hits, two sacrifices and an error, which netted five more runs.

Cuyler hit a home run in the first inning and Frisch hit for the circuit in the third, the latter accounting for the Giants' lone tally. Meadows held the Giants to six hits, while Barnes was banged for thirteen.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—New York and Pittsburgh opened a five game series with a doubleheader today before more than 50,000 fans. Virgil Barnes went into the box for the Giants, drawing as his opponent Lee Meadows.

Carey and Moore were missing from the Pirate line-up, Cuyler replacing Carey in centerfield. Bigbee moved to right and Rawlings was at second base.

Cuyler of the Pirates, drew first blood by crashing a home run in the first inning with none on base. It was his thirteenth of the season.

Frankie Frisch hoisted a low ball into the right field stands for a home run in the third inning, tying the score at 1 all.

Pittsburgh bunched four hits to two runs in the fourth inning, giving the Pirates the lead, 3 to 1. Sensational catches by Kelly and Snyder helped retire the Pirates without a score in the fifth.

The Pirates loosened a savage attack in the ninth, falling on Barnes for five hits, including a double, which with a sacrifice and an error brought four runs before Barnes was taken out of the box and replaced by Huntzinger. Another tally was scored before the side was retired on a sacrifice.

SLAYER GETS A LIFE TERM

Man Who Murdered Rancher Pleads Guilty and Asks Death Penalty But Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

VALENTINE, Neb., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Frank Allen, transient laborer and confessed slayer of William Heckel, 40 year old bachelor rancher of near Merriman, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Rushville, late Friday afternoon by Judge Westover. The sentence came 48 hours after he shot and killed Heckel from ambush.

Allen was taken to Rushville Friday afternoon and pleaded guilty and received sentence. He then was taken back to Valentine from where he will be transferred to the penitentiary. He begged for the death penalty yesterday.

Allen was landed safely in the Valentine jail Thursday night, following his capture by an angry posse of about 100 ranchers and cowboys, near the scene of the murder. He was brought here by County Attorney Heelan, Deputy Sheriff Coleman, and Ethel Johnson, 18, Heelan's stenographer, who led the posse and drove the prisoner 70 miles overland. Possemen were disarmed by officers and cool heads prevented any injury to the prisoner.

Allen readily admitted the killing and explained the crime, saying "he put dope in my food and water," a charge he would not clarify. He said, however, he worked for a farmer near Omaha two years ago and intended killing him "as he doped my food."

Allen had worked for Heckel for two weeks, quitting August 8. He said he went to Casper, Wyo., to get a gun to kill Heckel. On the way back, he said he stole a horse which he rode to Heckel's ranch. Arriving Tuesday, unseen, he said he shot Heckel through the heart, Wednesday afternoon. He then left, and when he was sighted the next day planned to "shoot it out," but changed his mind. "I couldn't fight an army," he said.

LAST RITES FOR DR. C. F. BALLARD

Hundreds Pay Final Tribute Saturday to Former Havelock Mayor.

Business Houses Close For Two Hours and Flags at Half Staff.

At the largest funeral ever held in Havelock hundreds of residents of that town and scores of other friends who had known Dr. Charles F. Ballard in life paid last respects to him in death Saturday morning.

It is estimated that nearly one thousand persons attended the rites. The cortege which followed his casket to the grave in Wyuka was more than a mile and a half long.

All places of business were closed for two hours after 10 a. m. and flags in Havelock were at half mast.

The services were held on the front porch of the Ballard home at Fourteenth and N streets. Chairs were provided for most of those who attended but two hundred were unable to find seats and the crowd swelled out from the Ballard yard into that of a neighbor. Masons alone who were present, mostly members of George Washington lodge 250, numbered one hundred and seventy-five.

At 10 o'clock the service began with a song by Mrs. W. F. Ackerman. Rev. Harmon Bross, a friend of the deceased for forty-five years, read scripture and said a prayer, which was followed by a song from the Masonic quartet. Rev. Bross paid a tribute to the dead, Mrs. Ackerman sang again, and the long procession to view the body of Dr. Ballard began. For half an hour or so a steady stream of friends passed by, old and young, to view for the last time Havelock's first mayor, best known physician, and most prominent citizen.

With an escort of Knights Templar, the hearse then started to the grave. Burial was in a family lot at Wyuka, where lodge No. 250 held Masonic services before the interment.

Rev. Bross preached from the text of Revelations 14:13 and grew eloquent over the life of the man "who loved his home and made ample provision for it."

He told of the two children, Fred, who returned from New York for the funeral, and Clara, who passed away two years ago, after becoming the mother of three.

Dr. Ballard was deeply interested in the church, said Rev. Bross, and before coming to Havelock was a principal member of the denomination at Grafton. He was a charter member of the Congregational church in the shop town in 1892 and has been active in guarding its welfare since.

His great pride was in his profession and his practice as a physician and surgeon.

Speaking of the tribute paid by Dr. Watson, author of "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," to the country physician, Rev. Bross said that had the author known Dr. Ballard he would have taken him for his model.

Fights Extradition On Charge of Non-Support In Kansas

On the ground that he was not in Kansas on August 7 and therefore could not have been guilty of any crime against the laws of that state on the date mentioned, Harley Henderson of Omaha is bitterly resisting an effort to procure his extradition to that state on the charge of deserting and failing to support his 11-year-old daughter who lives at Atchison with her mother, the divorced wife of Henderson.

The Omaha man married in 1922 after his first wife has obtained a divorce from him there in 920. He and his second spouse are the parents of another child. It is charged at Atchison that Henderson was ordered by the district court at Omaha, when it granted his former wife a decree of separation, to make regular payments for the maintenance of the daughter, and that he has not been doing this of late.

Henderson has employed counsel and the case will be aired before Governor McMullen next Tuesday, on the request of the Kansas authorities for a writ of extradition. County attorney George L. Brown of Atchison will be here at that time to present the prosecution's side of the matter.

Aside from the merits of the controversy, the strictly legal question whether a crime can be committed under the laws of a state when the alleged offender is outside the state is presented. Henderson claims he has not been in Kansas since he was mustered out of the military service at Camp Funston, after the world war. He says he has been a resident of South Omaha and Omaha since 1904. He married his first wife there in 1913.

PRICES FALL AS OIL FIRMS WAGE BATTLE

Motorists Grin As Rival Merchants Announce Slashes In Four Sections ---Eight Cent Drop Reported At Decatur, Illinois.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. — (By the Associated Press.) — Motorists are wearing broad grins and their chariots are chugging merrily in four sections of the midwest today as wars between rival dealers have brought tobogganing gasoline prices.

The hilarity is highest in Decatur, Ill., where prices are the lowest. There national concerns, attempting to drive out independents, have trimmed costs from 23 cents a gallon to 15 and 17 cents. Several of the smaller stations have succumbed, others have suspended until the war is over and others continue to fight.

In Wichita, Kas., where the fight has raged for months, prices are down to 13.8 cents, plus a state tax of 2 cents, to 20.8, plus tax, the latter being quotations of the Standard Oli Co. of Indiana, which has remained aloof.

Two rivals in Woonsocket, S. D., started a war and neutrals were compelled to follow suit and later suspend. After six days, one garage is down to 17 cents and the Texaco representative to 18 cents.

In Kansas City prices range from 19.5 to 23.9 cents.

Third Reduction in East.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The third reduction within a week in the price of export gasoline was announced by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey today when a cut of one-half cent a gallon was put into effect.

The reduction brings the price of cargo lots to 16 1-4 cents a gallon and that of United States navy grade 14 cents. Export kerosene was lowered 1-4 cent a gallon.

GASOLINE PRICE TUMBLES HERE

Muny Station Manager Starts Local War With Cut Saturday.

Private Concerns Also Make Reductions and Duncan Goes Still Lower.

A gasoline price war is on in Lincoln and at noon today prices at some of the stations had dropped to 18 cents. The fight was started by City Commissioner Duncan Saturday morning when he slashed the price to 19 cents and was followed immediately by two of the independent companies.

Announcing the cut Saturday morning Duncan said "from now on the municipal gasoline station will be the barometer of gasoline prices in Lincoln. I am assured of a supply, something I have not had heretofore, and now if the other fellow sells he will sell at a price that is consistent with refinery prices."

Following the cut Saturday morning independent companies all announced a reduction to 19 at noon and Duncan at once countered with his second cut of the day, bringing the price down to 16 cents plus tax at the municipal station. At 2 o'clock the Standard Oil had reduced to 19 cents, it was said at its offices here. The A. B. A. was non-commital but said that if the other companies had cut its price would be reduced also. The Coryell Oil company would make no statement until later in the afternoon.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF TWO

Double Killing at Sioux City Puzzles Police—Pair Found Dead at Hardware Store and $200 Missing From Safe.

SIOUX CITY, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two men are dead and $200 is missing from the safe of a Sioux City hardware store as the result of a mysterious shooting.

When C. A. Larson, proprietor of the store, unlocked the door this morning, he found his clerk, William Laugherson, and an unidentified man lying fatally wounded on the floor.

Both men died at St. Joseph's hospital without recovering consciousness.

Because all doors were locked when Larson arrived, police are puzzled. Whether the unidentified man was a burglar or a friend of Laugherson and had accompanied him into the store is not known.

X-Ray Machine Is Knocked Out By Change of Current

Suppose you were a medical practitioner out in one of the smaller cities of Nebraska and you had spent over $3 000 for X ray apparatus to examine broken bones and detect other physical irregularities of your patients and suppose that after you had it installed and operating nicely the company furnishing electricity should change from direct to alternating current and thus put the whole equipment out of commission

That's what happened to Dr C G Amick of Loup City and he doesn't like it a bit In a letter to the state railway commission he says he put in an X ray outfit two years ago which is now about to be rendered useless on account of plant changes being made by the power company there It will cost over $1 200 he says to rebuild the machine so that it can use the kind of current which the company proposes to furnish her after

CHAPTER LIV

Mrs Bates stood motionless until the door had closed behind Scott Then she turned to her niece

Well the exclamation contained a world of meaning 'What have you to say for yourself?'

Please sit down Aunt Jane Rhoda pushed a chair forward I am sure you are tired climbing those terrible stairs And your nice white gloves are a mess from those dirty walls The halls are not kept as clean as they should be

Indeed they are not was the indignant rejoinder And they are as dark as night I actually had to feel my way along as I came up And this is what you have chosen in preference to my home

Rhoda was silent

Well Again that significant exclamation Have you nothing to say to me—no explanation to make

Explanation? Rhoda faltered I explained before I came down here why I was coming

That is not what I refer to and you know it I mean have you no explanation to make of the condition of affairs I find when I come to see you You lounging on the sofa with a fast looking young man whose breath smells of whisky—you and he smoking—two glasses on the table—and all that And you yourself have had something to drink I smell it on your breath

I only sampled a new kind of liquor that Mr Scott had just brought in I was curious to know how it tasted

He evidently showed you now it tasted Mrs Bates snorted I knew things down here were pretty bad—but I had no idea they were like this—at least I supposed that my brother's child had enough sense of decency to keep a man of that type at arm's length

You do not know Mr Scott' Rhoda protested indignantly You cannot judge of anyone by a mere glimpse of him He has the unconventional ideas that all artists have and the freedom from constraint that means frankness and honesty

The apple-jack was giving her what she had heard called Dutch courage She was glad she had taken it She need not stand this woman's brow beating Why had Mrs Bates come down here if she was only going to find fault when she came?

Honesty? Mrs Bates repeated Perhaps that is what it is called here! It is called bad form north of Fourteenth street

I understand — Rhoda controlled her indignation sufficiently to speak more calmly — that some of the finest people in New York live in the vicinity of Washington Square

Not in Greenwich Village—or this part of it the widow declared I have never been in this street before in all the years of my life And I was born and reared in New York Nor would I be here now if I had not heard from your mother—and been sorry for her

Sorry for mother Rhoda echoed All anger sank in her heart Why—what is the matter with mother she demanded Tell me please

Nothing but what you must know already was the magisterial answer She has received a letter from you saying you are not going home for Christmas Isn't that enough for her to have the matter [illegible]?

Do you mean Rhoda insisted that mother wrote you that she was made unhappy by my letter?

Not exactly that the matron admitted reluctantly But she did write that you were not coming home for the holidays and expressed the hope that you were not working too hard I determined to learn the truth and to communicate with her I can certainly assure her that you are not working too hard She believes that you are giving up your Christmas trip because you do not wish to break in upon your musical studies

She is entirely right Rhoda affirmed I told mother the truth—as I always do And Aunt Jane she believes me

Then she would be surprised if she could see what I have seen this afternoon was the severe retort And understand I shall tell her the truth as I see it I shall also tell her that this is my first glimpse of you since you moved out of my house

I called on you one afternoon the girl interposed but you were out And I have been busy practising many hours a day

Where The bulging eyes swept the room You have no piano

Upstairs Rhoda replied faintly in a studio

Whose?

Mr Scott's I explained all this to mother

'Ah! I hardly think she can understand the situation But I shall certainly try to make her understand it I was coming down to see you—anyhow—since you called on me—but I would not have come so soon had I not heard from Martha

When I learned of your intention to spend your holidays away from her and away from anyone belonging to you I felt it my duty to look into the matter I am surprised—although perhaps I should not be — and disappointed — very much disappointed—in you Rhoda And I shall inform your mother of this fact

I hardly think you understand Aunt Jane The girl entered a feeble demur Nor do I think it quite fair to worry mother when she is so far away and —

Allow me to judge of the justice of my own actions please the harsh guttural voice interrupted I shall follow the dictates of my conscience As your father's sister I owe some duty to his wife and I shall discharge it And now I am going back home I have seen enough for one day

Today

Lawson, Able. Honest, Useful.
Stomach Fighting Brain
Treat France Well

By Arthur Brisbane.

In the death of Victor Lawson Chicago and the newspaper world lose an able honorable useful man

Mr Lawson belonged to the newspaper of today with the days of Bennett Greeley and Raymond

Newspaper changes in Lawson's life of work have been as great as changes in transportation from stage coaches to flying machines

Lawson whose mind remained young while his body grew old changed his news collecting methods without difficulty from the slow messenger boy to wireless and radio keeping always up with the times

Chicago where his life was spent owes much to his energy and good citizenship

He has gone wherever good newspaper men go when they die

Gertrude Ederle who will try again should remember that a lady swimming is like an army that travels on its stomach On the morning of her great attempt she ate a preposterously hearty breakfast which included beef stew

After swimming two and one half miles through the rough waves she called to her trainer whose orders she had spurned I can still feel that beef stew And that beef stew had probably more to do with her failure than the waves and the wind

What applies to Gertrude Ederle the young swimmer applies with 10 000 times more importance to American business and professional men They start their day's swim with a heavy meal often following it up with a heavy luncheon hastily swallowed

And then they spend the day with their stomach fighting the brain as to which shall have the blood supply on which brain and stomach depend for their work E H Harriman and Jay Gould killed themselves by foolish eating

When a horse is to race they take away his hay the night and morning before the race

If our able men treated themselves as intelligently as trainers treat race horses they would produce twice as much and live twice as long

Washington takes it for granted that France will receive treatment less favorable than that accorded to Belgium in her debt settlement

Regardless of the fact that her resources are greater than Belgium's France should be treated by this nation as a favored creditor even more favorably than Belgium or any other nation

The United States owes a gigantic debt to France and that doesn't refer to the unimportant gesture of Lafayette who remained quiet and invisible in his own country's revolution It refers to the great Frenchmen of the 18th century whose writings inspired and guided our ablest men including Jefferson and Franklin What they knew they learned from France and to France this country owed its revolution

Learned men including churchmen once taught that there was a roof to the earth solid held up by its own strength and called the sky

When Galileo denied that and said the earth was a round ball whirling around the sun he had to get down on his knees saying that he retracted abjured and abhorred his false teachings,—which happened to be perfectly true

The idea of a solid sky above us with stars planted in it here and there faded out But now the radio experts of the navy say the earth actually has a roof of another kind It exists presumably where our thin atmosphere melts away into the ether in ionized region in the higher levels of the atmosphere the scientists call it

The imponderable ether so dense that solid steel in comparison is like a coarse fishnet certainly does enclose our earth and its thin atmosphere

Radio waves such as we use may not be able to travel outside that atmosphere If so science will find some other wave that will take messages to other planets

If light producing waves can travel from sun to the earth men will find some waves that will carry information from the earth to the sun and beyond

The United States will send their seaplanes manned by navy men to fly in one hop from California to Hawaii

This country should have been one ago beyond the experimental hop stage with regular flying service from Hawaii to the continent and from Hawaii to the Philippines

If this country doesn't learn to fly westward across the Pacific plenty of those now living will see the [illegible] long boats [illegible] the other way

Breaks a Train But Saves Life Of Young Woman

(Special to The Star)

FREMONT Neb Aug 22—Train No 131 on the Northwestern was halted so suddenly at the Main street crossing in Fremont yesterday that a flat car laden with wheels forty six cars back from the engine in the long train buckled and broke in two It had to be taken from the train and its load transferred to another car causing a serious delay

The sudden halting of the train by Engineer A J Westergaard probably saved the life of a pretty young woman whose coupe had stalled in front of the engine Westergaard's train stopped within feet of the stalled coupe Then someone ran out and cranked the balky coupe and the young woman smilingly drove away She did not thank the engineer who nearly wrecked his train to save her life but Westergaard insists that he doesn't care

Bus Driver Draws Fine Of $15 On Speeding Charge

W. H. Brown, 230 North Twelfth street, driving an inter-urban bus between Lincoln and Omaha, was fined $15 and costs in municipal court Saturday on a charge of speeding at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour along Holdrege street west of the Agricultural college, about 1 o'clock this morning. Mr. Brown said that his bus was behind schedule at the time of his arrest, and that absence of traffic on Holdrege street at that time convinced him there would be no danger.

Carrier Reports On Gasoline But No Payment Made

In its first report filed with the state gasoline tax bureau, the Northwestern railroad mentions one consignment of liquid fuel amounting to 2,712 gallons shipped into Nebraska during July, but does not admit that any of it was consumed within this state. The report says that 550 gallons was used, but all of this was in Wyoming. No payment of tax is tendered.

The Northwestern operates gasoline motor cars on its lines in Nebraska, and Chief Bass of the state bureau cannot understand why the statement does not include their consumption. He also wants information about gasoline shipped in and used by the Northwestern during April, May and June, as well as in July.

Other railroads, among them the Burlington used them and are paying the tax thereon.

To Start Mixing For Capitol Piers

Within the next week the mixing and pouring of concrete for supporting piers beneath the foundation of the interior section of the new capitol will be commenced. A number of circular holes about 4 feet in diameter are now being dug by hand from the level of the basement floor down to the sandstone formation 20 feet below. These will be filled with concrete, and the foundation walls will rest upon them.

The first piers thus constructed will be at the west end of the central excavation. After they are completed , a high concrete tower will be erected in the space surrounding them, from which it is planned to run the liquid concrete by gravity some distance in different directions, to fill up similar holes and also for the construction of the walls themselves.

Trestlework has been laid for railroad track to run along the south side of the big hole in the ground, crossing the excavation in two or three places. The track will serve for hauling away dirt and for bringing in gravel, cement, brick, stone and other building materials.

AWAIT MOVE IN COAL SITUATION

Miners' Head Disappears and No Developments Expected Before Monday.

New England Governors Discuss Plans In Event Of Anthracite Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—When John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workes of America, failed to return Friday to his temporary hotel headquarters here after his departure Thursday, speculation developed as to possibility of final developments soon in the anthracite wage situation. Mr. Lewis' whereabouts were not disclosed by his staff.

Nothing was looked for, however, much before next Monday. The present anthracite wage contract then enters virtually its final week.

Meanwhile word reached here that James J. Davis, secretary of labor, and reported to be one of the government spokesmen in coal would arrive in New York Tuesday after a vacation trip abroad.

Governors Meet.

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The governors of New England states and their representatives, who met there Friday to discuss the coal situation as it affects New England, agreed that the best method of combating hardship should an anthracite shortage develop, would be to educate New England in the use of substitute fuels and to see to it that such substitutes were supplied.

It was voted to continue as a permanent body, with John Hays Hammond, chairman of the federal coal committeee two years ago, as chairman and Henry L. Shattuck of Boston, secretary.

Chairman Hammond, who stated that he was not present as a representative of President Coolidge, said that he had no fear of an anthracite strike this year. The operators realize, he said, that they are losing their markets because of increasing prices and the public's fear of a shortage, and the miners were "in the same boat."

FIRE CONSUMES SMALL COTTAGE

Flames Spread From Flue; Ed Weline and Partner Homeless.

Ed Waline and another man whose name was not learned, are without a home as the result of a flue fire at 9 a. m. Saturday in their two-room house two miles west of Lincoln on the S. Y. highway. The lot and outbuildings are all that remain after the flue fire spread and consumed the house.

The fire was beyond control when the chemical truck from fire station No. 1, reached the scene. Firemen doused the flames with chemicals and as much water as available, saving other buildings.

The two men who occupied the place as bachelors, lost their personal effects and a few pieces of furniture. The entire loss will not exceed $500, and insurance covers part of the loss, it was said.

X-Ray Machine Is Knocked Out By Change of Current

Suppose you were a medical practitioner out in one of the smaller cities of Nebraska, and you had spent over $3,000 for X-ray apparatus to examine broken bones and detect other physical irregularities of your patients, and suppose that after you had it installed and operating nicely the company furnishing electricity should change from direct to alternating current and thus put the whole equipment out of commission.

That's what happened to Dr. C. G. Amick of Loup City, and he doesn't like it a little bit. In a letter to the state railway commission he says he put in an X-ray outfit two years ago, which is now about to be rendered useless on account of plant changes being made by the power company there. It will cost over $1,200, he says, to rebuild the machine so that it can use the kind of current which the company proposes to furnish hereafter.

"Has the power company a right to put its patrons to such an expense as this?" Amick indignantly inquires.

The railway commission doesn't know whether it has or not. Electric, gas, waterworks and similar local utilities are not under the commission's jurisdiction and control as to their service and rates. Each city and village is supposed to regulate these matters for itself. It might require a lawsuit in Amick's case to decide the equities involved as between himself and the lighting corporation.

Bids are Opened on Laying Water Mains, Paving, Sidewalk

Bids for the laying of a water main from Sixteenth to Seventeenth street on W, and on Sixteenth from W to Northside avenue; for the paving of K street from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-seventh, and for the building of a sidewalk abutting on lot 10 between Forty-second and Forty-third street on O, were opened at th ecity hall Saturday morning by City Engineer D. L. Erickson.

Bidders on the laying of the water main were J. L. Deffenbaugh and Knudson & Co. Deffenbaugh offered to do the work for $1,382 and Knudson, $1,425. The Cochrane Construction company bid on the paving contract was $2,165.90, and the Abel Construction company bid, $2,180.70. The Reimers-Cauffman company bid on the sidewalk, uncontested, wa sfor 20 cents a square yard.

CHAPTER LIV.

Mrs. Bates stood motionless until the door had closed behind Scott. Then she turned to her niece.

"Well!" the exclamation contained a world of meaning. "What have you to say for yourself?"

"Please sit down, Aunt Jane." Rhoda pushed a chair forward. "I am sure you are tired climbing those terrible stairs. And your nice white gloves are all dust from those dirty walls. The halls are not kept as clean as they should be.

"Indeed they are not!" was the indignant rejoinder. "And they are as dark as night. I actually had to feel my way along as I came up. And this is what you have chosen in preference to my home!"

Rhoda was silent.

"Well!" Again that significant exclamation. "Have you nothing to say to me—no explanation to make?"

"Explanation?" Rhoda faltered. "I explained before I came down here why I was coming."

"That is not what I refer to, and you know it. I mean have you no explanation to make of the condition of affairs I find when I come to see you? You lounging on the sofa with a fast-looking young man whose breath smells of whisky—you and he smoking—two glasses on the table—and all that? And you yourself have had something to drink! I smell it on your breath!"

"I only sampled a new kind of liquor that Mr. Scott had just brought in. I was curious to know how it tasted."

"He evidently showed you how it tasted," Mrs. Bates snorted. "I knew things down here were pretty bad—but I had no idea they were like this—at least I supposed that my brother's child had enough sense of decency to keep a man of that type at arm's length."

"You do not know Mr. Scott," Rhoda protested indignantly. "You cannot judge of anyone by a mere glimpse of him. He has the unconventional ideas that all artists have, and the freedom from constraint that means frankness and honesty."

The apple-jack was giving her what she had heard called "Dutch courage." She was glad she had taken it. She need not stand this woman's brow-beating. Why had Mrs. Bates come down here if she was only going to find fault when she came?

"Honesty?" Mrs. Bates repeated. "Perhaps that is what it is called here! It is called bad form north of Fourteenth street."

"I understand" — Rhoda controlled her indignation sufficiently to speak more calmly—"that some of the finest people in New York live in the vicinity of Washington Square."

"Not in Greenwich Village—or this part of it," the widow declared. "I have never been in this street before in all the years of my life. And I was born and reared in New York. Nor would I be here now if I had not heard from your mother—and been sorry for her."

"Sorry for mother!" Rhoda echoed. All anger sank in her heart. "Why—what is the matter with mother?" she demanded. "Tell me please!"

"Nothing but what you must know already," was the magisterial answer. "She has received a letter from you saying you are not going home for Christmas. Isn't that enough for her to have the matter with her?"

"Do you mean," Rhoda insisted, "that mother wrote you that she was made unhappy by my letter?"

"Not exactly that," the matron admitted reluctantly. "But she did write that you were not coming home for the holidays, and expressed the hope that you were not working too hard. I determined to learn the truth and to communicate with her. I can certainly assure her that you are not working too hard! She believes that you are giving up your Christmas trip because you do not wish to break in upon your musical studies."

"She is entirely right," Rhoda affirmed. "I told mother the truth—as I always do. And, Aunt Jane, she believes me."

"Then she would be surprised if she could see what I have seen this afternoon," was the severe retort. "And, understand, I shall tell her the truth as I see it. I shall also tell her that this is my first glimpse of you since you moved out of my house."

"I called on you one afternoon," the girl interposed, "but you were out. And I have been busy practising many hours a day."

"Where?" The bulging eyes swept the room. "You have no piano."

"Upstairs," Rhoda replied faintly, "in a studio."

"Whose?"

"Mr. Scott's. I explained all this to mother."

"Ah! I hardly think she can understand the situation. But I shall certainly try to make her understand it. I was coming down to see you—anyhow—since you called on me—but I would not have come so soon had I not heard from Martha.

"When I learned of your intention to spend your holidays away from her, and away from anyone belonging to you, I felt it my duty to look into the matter. I am surprised—although perhaps I should not be — and disappointed — very much disappointed—in you, Rhoda. And I shall inform your mother of this fact."

"I hardly think you understand, Aunt Jane." The girl entered a feeble demur. "Nor do I think it quite fair to worry mother when she is so far away, and"—

"Allow me to judge of the justice of my own actions, please," the harsh, guttural voice interrupted. "I shall follow the dictates of my conscience. As your father's sister I owe some duty to his wife, and I shall discharge it. And now I am going back home. I have seen enough for one day."

A housewife living nearby turned in the call after this man had asked for food. He told her he had no desire to go to town and she became suspicious.

Today

Lawson, Able, Honest, Useful. Stomach Fighting Brain. Treat France Well.

By Arthur Brisbane.

In the death of Victor Lawson, Chicago and the newspaper world lose an able, honorable, useful man.

Mr. Lawson, dead at 75, connects the newspaper of today with the days of Bennett, Greeley and Raymond.

Newspaper changes in Lawson's life of work have been as great as changes in transportation, from stage coaches to flying machines.

Lawson, whose mind remained young while his body grew old, changed his news collecting methods without difficulty from the slow messenger boy to wireless and radio, keeping always up with the times.

Chicago, where his life was spent, owes much to his energy and good citizenship.

He has gone whereever good newspaper men go, when they die.

Gertrude Ederle, who will try again, should remember that a lady swimming is like an army that "travels on its stomach." On the morning of her great attempt, she ate a preposterously hearty breakfast, which included beef stew.

After swimming two and one-half miles through the rough waves, she called to her trainer whose orders she had spurned, "I can still feel that beef stew." And, that beef stew had probably more to do with her failure than the waves and the wind.

What applies to Gertrude Ederle, the young swimmer, applies with 10,000 times more importance to American business and professional men. They start their "day's swim" with a heavy meal, often following it up with a heavy luncheon, hastily swallowed.

And then they spend the day with their stomach fighting the brain as to which shall have the blood supply on which brain and stomach depend for their work. E. H. Harriman and Jay Gould killed themselves by foolish eating.

When a horse is to race they take away his hay the night and morning before the race.

If our able men treated themselves as intelligently as trainers treat race horses they would produce twice as much and live twice as long.

Washington takes it for granted that France will receive treatment less favorable than that accorded to Belgium in her debt settlement.

Regardless of the fact that her resources are greater than Belgium's, France should be treated by this nation as a favored creditor, even more favorably than Belgium or any other nation.

The United States owes a gigantic debt to France, and that doesn't refer to the unimportant gesture of LaFayette, who remained quiet and invisible in his own country's revolution. It refers to the great Frenchman of the 18th century, whose writings inspired and guided our ablest men, including Jefferson and Franklin. What they knew they learned from France, and to France this country owed its revolution.

Learned men, including churchmen, once taught that there was a roof to the earth, solid, held up by its own strength and called the sky.

When Galileo denied it and said the earth was a round ball whirling around the sun, he had to get down on his knees saying that he "retracted, abjured and abhorred his false teachings,"—which happened to be perfectly true.

The idea of a solid sky above us, with stars planted in it here and there, faded out. But now the radio experts of the navy say the earth actually has a "roof" of another kind. It exists, presumably, where our thin atmosphere melts away into the ether, "an ionized region in the higher levels of the atmosphere," the scientists call it.

The "imponderable ether," so dense that solid steel in comparison is like a coarse fishnet, certainly does enclose our earth and its thin atmosphere.

Radio waves such as we use may not be able to travel outside that atmosphere. If so, science will find some other wave that will take messages to other planets.

If light-producing waves can travel from sun to the earth, men will find some waves that will carry information from the earth to the sun and beyond.

The United States will send their seaplanes, manned by 15 men, to fly in one "hop" from California to Hawaii.

This country should have been long ago beyond the experimental "hop" stage, with regular flying service from Hawaii to the continent and from Hawaii to the Philippines.

If this country doesn't learn to fly westward across the Pacific, plenty of those now living will see Asiatic flying boats coming the other way.

They haven't exactly got freedom of the press in Cuba as yet—at least, not freedom for editors, except in the poetical sense.

In that sense the late Editor Alvarado of the Havana El Dia is free.

He criticized Machado's government. On Tuesday his two papers were suspended by government order. Early Wednesday morning Editor Alvarado was shot dead.

Certified Seed Potatoes In West End Doing Well

(Special to The Star.)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Aug. 22.—More than a score of members of the Western Nebraska Certified Seed Potato Growers association, will complete a three day inspection of seed potato plots in five counties, tomorrow. They were in Scottsbluff today, and went to the experiment farm at Mitchell, after coming from Kimball, where the tour started on Wednesday.

So far, they have discovered no trace of blight or disease among the certified seed being grown in the valley, which means that the potatoes will be 90 per cent or more perfect. Certified seed is being contracted at $2 per 100, and indications are that there will be a big yield in the valley. The association will hold a business meeting in Alliance at the close of the tour.

Breaks a Train But Saves Life Of Young Woman

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 22.—Train No. 131 on the Northwestern was halted so suddenly at the Main street crossing in Fremont yesterday that a flat car laden with wheels, forty-six cars back from the engine in the long train, buckled and broke in two. It had to be taken from the train and its load transferred to another car, causing a serious delay.

The sudden halting of the train by Engineer A. J. Westergaard probably saved the life of a pretty young woman, whose coupe had stalled in front of the engine. Westergaard's train stopped within 20 feet of the stalled coupe. Then someone ran out and cranked the balky coupe and the young woman smilingly drove away. She did not thank the engineer who nearly wrecked his train to save her life, but Westergaard insists that he doesn't care.

A Second Cheese Factory In West Seems Certainty

(Special to The Star.)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Aug. 22.—It now seems probable that there will soon be a second co-operative cheese factory in the valley, as a committee was appointed at the Gering Valley meeting to solicit stock subscriptions for a company to be organized for erection of another factory, for which enough cows have already been pledged. Six hundred dollars in stock was subscribed at the meeting. The committee includes nine men, with Carl Stuckey as chairman, and an intensive canvas will be made at once for stock.

Hoffman Name of Man Convicted In Trial at Hastings

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 22.—Confusion in names led to the statement being sent out from here that Edmund P. Nuss was the first person to be convicted in this county under the pint of liquor law enacted by the last legislature, whereas it was William Hoffman who was convicted, Edmund P. Nuss being the acting judge before whom he was convicted and who sentenced him. Mr. Nuss is a prominent and highly respected young lawyer here and was filling the position of county judge during the absence of the elected incumbent, Judge J. M. Turbyfill, who was at the national guard encampment at Ashland.

(Special to The Star.)

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Aug. 22.—J. F. Kelley of Garden county is delivering home grown strawberries to different dealers through this part of the valley by auto truck, making three trips a week as far as Scottsbluff. Because of a frost early in the spring, his berries are about three weeks late this season and the yield be considerably decreased.

HUGHES HURT IN LEAP FROM TRAIN

Detroit Youth Suffers Head Injury In Accident Late Friday Night.

Jumping to the ground from a fast-moving freight train caused Wesley Hughes, 21, to fall on the cinder ballast along the Burlington tracks north of University Place, severely injured his head, at about midnight last night. He gave his home address as 282 Adeline avenue, Detroit, Mich.

After an examination Saturday morning, Dr. W. H. Slattery said the boy's chances of recovery are good. Hughes was scratched and bruised in many places, the most serious injury being a scalp wound. The scalp was cut for several inches across the top, and for several inches down the back of the scalp. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Splain and Schnell's ambulance.

Stunned by his fall, Hughes staggered to the home of J. F. Kennedy, 2018 D street, University Place. The family there summoned Dr. Harry Taylor, who gave emergency treatment and took him to the Lincoln police station, and from there he was sent to St. Elizabeth's hospital under the care of Dr. Slattery.

Hughes was beating his way on the train, and mistook the lights of Havelock for the city of Lincoln. He concluded that the train had passed through Lincoln, and so he hopped off in order to go back.

He said he had recently been laid off from work at the Packard automobile plant in Detroit. He had come west as far as Ashland by soliciting rides with motorists on the highway. At Ashland he hopped the freight for Lincoln.

Hughes wished to stop in Lincoln to visit a family by the name of Downs living at the St. Francis apartments, he said.

Harrett Is Again Cleared of Charge Of Embezzlement

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 22. — For a second time William Harrett, former agent here for the Singer Sewing Machine company, successfully defended himself against charges of embezzlement preferred by the company. Justice A. K. Dame late last evening, after a hearing that lasted three days in the county court room, found that the charges against the sewing machine agent were insufficient to warrant holding him.

After the Singer company caused Harrett's arrest early last spring, he filed a damage suit of $25,000 against the concern. This was followed by a reaudit of the books at the Fremont office and the filing of new charges by the company.

POOR PUBLICITY FOR NEBRASKA.

Another example of the brand of publicity which is proving hurtful to Nebraska interests is furnished in the regular weekly crop summary issued by the United States weather bureau at Lincoln

After describing the climatic conditions which prevailed for the week ending August 19 the summary goes on to say

Early corn is poor and too far advanced to be helped much by recent weather conditions Late corn is making good but not rapid progress in most sections but rain is still needed in the northeastern counties and in other scattered localities

No doubt Thomas A Blair the government meteorologist gave the most painstaking care to the information which was in his possession He has approximately sixty correspondents in various sections of Nebraska each of whom reports on the conditions in his particular locality From these reports Mr Blair prepares his summary Of course all crop information must necessarily be a matter of estimate The final figures prepared by the government represent only careful estimates It is understood that they are only approximate but they should at least conform generally to the facts

Now the truth of the matter is that all early corn in Nebraska is not poor or is not too advanced to be very materially improved by the rains which came most opportunely in August There are large sections in Nebraska which are anticipating harvesting one of the largest corn crops on record and there have been innumerable reports of a condition said to be the best in years Nothing beyond a most abnormal and unseasonable frost can prevent Nebraska from harvesting better than an average crop of corn and in some localities the greatest crop that has been raised in recent years

The comeback which Nebraska corn staged in the first fifteen days of August after the most punishing heat of early July and the absence of moisture during the last two weeks of that month is one of the most amazing stories in the agricultural history of this state Three weeks ago a prominent banker of Seward closely in touch with the farming conditions of his community reported that he feared irreparable damage to the crop in his home county and a prospect of an exceedingly small yield Three days ago he said the August rains had performed a miracle and Seward would harvest a big crop of corn That is the word which is coming from many Nebraska counties

Those splendid counties in southeastern Nebraska embracing Otoe Nemaha Richardson Pawnee Johnson and Cass have never despaired of a corn crop at any time during the summer They have had an abundance of moisture during all of the growing season There is indisputable authority for the statement that in these counties particularly a crop unexcelled in recent years has already been assured with estimates of yields ranging from 50 up to as high as 75 and 80 bushels an acre They raise a lot of corn in this territory

There are isolated sections in Nebraska where conditions may warrant Mr Blair's language They are few and far between In some of the southwestern Nebraska counties and along the extreme northeast tier corn has suffered some depreciation It is not a general condition such as one might infer from the report The most conservative grain men in the state now estimate that Nebraska's crop will slightly exceed that of a year ago A year ago we raised 200 000 000 bushels We have raised less than 200 000 000 bushels of corn more years than we have exceeded that mark

Nebraska should be more jealous of her standing in the nation A short time ago she was ranked below Indiana and Missouri in prospective corn production If the estimates for these states were correct, she will exceed each of them by several million bushels Her farmers and her citizens are entitled to credit and they should not be made to suffer through misinformation sent out by governmental agencies

EQUALITY IN TRANSPORTATION RATES

Lincoln's good wishes and sympathetic interest are extended to the smaller interior cities of the state that have just organized to obtain for themselves an adjustment of railroad freight rates which will place them on more equal terms with the wholesale and manufacturing points situated on the Missouri river These cities are as much entitled to fair treatment by the carriers as any other shipping centers

Because of its own experience in being forced to battle for many years against discriminatory rates some of which have only lately been done away with Lincoln has a fellow feeling for its Nebraska neighbors that are still struggling under such handicaps This city has never asked for itself special concessions or advantages at the expense of others It relies upon its geographical location in the center of a marvelously productive agricultural region and upon the enterprise of its citizens to attract trade and build up its industries

Many of the inequalities which persist in the rate and classification schedules of the transportation companies are a survival of the days when rebates and other preferential treatment were accorded to favored shippers and communities There is no good reason for their continuance Rates should bear a reasonably close relation to the cost of service The whole middle west is opposed to letting the carriers haul cargoes from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and back at rates low enough to compete with ships passing through the Panama canal allowing them to make up the difference by charging much higher rates in this section where there is no water competition It is manifestly unfair that a long haul of 2 500 to 3 000 miles should be made for a less charge than one of half that distance to an interior point Equity also dictates that the cities of central Nebraska should not have to pay twice as much freight on goods shipped from New York or Chicago as is collected where the shipment stops at the Missouri river They should pay a little more—enough to cover the additional mileage—but nothing like the difference that prevails under schedules now in effect on various commodities

Of necessity being an interior point itself Lincoln has had to adjust itself in the past to the Missouri river basis In its fight for fair rates the capital city received no assistance from any other trade center in Nebraska If Grand Island Hastings and some of the others had joined with Lincoln when it was in the midst of the battle their united efforts might have established a new basis that would have taken care of all Without this help all Lincoln could do was to secure recognition for itself on an equal basis with Omaha Sioux City and Council Bluffs so far as the combination of in and out shipments goes That goal has finally been achieved after many years of constant effort

Fremont Beatrice and Norfolk situated about the same distance west of the Missouri river as Lincoln is have automatically been given the same rate adjustment They have not had to do much fighting themselves although they have benefitted as the result of Lincoln's activity

If a word of advice be in order to Columbus Central City Grand Island Hastings and other cities that may become affiliated with the new traffic league of central Nebraska it is suggested that they address themselves to obtaining reductions in their own rates which will tend to equalize existing conditions and not lend aid to any campaign which might have the effect of raising rates to or from other cities in the eastern part of the state

LENROOT'S CHALLENGE TO THE LA FOLLETTE DYNASTY

There is a death struggle on in Wisconsin which promises to attract the attention of the entire nation

When Senator Lenroot speaking for the regular republicans who in state convention nominated Roy P Wilcox to fill the vacancy caused by Fighting Bob's death designated the candidacy of young La Follette as that of the heir apparent he voiced a protest which is certain to be heard more frequently as the campaign progresses

Young La Follette has few qualifications for his father's place He has none of the vibrant personality of the late senator none of his natural gifts of oratory and little of the brilliant mental equipment of the late progressive chieftain There have been few better informed men in congress than Fighting Bob There have been few so loved and so hated so reverenced and so despised The thought of young La Follette attempting to grace the position which his father occupied must appeal to the humor of even those who through a sense of loyalty to old Bob will stick with the son

It may be expected that Lenroot and his associates will not fail to make the most of the situation In life they could not cope with Fighting Bob They may succeed in evening the score by defeating the son who aspires to follow in his father's footsteps It will be a fight well worth the watching although devoid of the issues which formerly characterized the bitter contests in the Badger state In fact the only issue which the voters may be expected to decide is whether the son shall succeed to the senatorial post which his father held through a quarter of a century of savage unrelenting warfare

A MARRIAGE DOLE

What amounts to a public dole is now suggested as a means of making married life in the United States more attractive The promoter of the scheme is Prof Paul H Douglas of the University of Chicago who views with customary alarm our decreasing marriage rate

The single man has learned says the professor that married life means a lower standard of living and in some cases real hardships As a result married men are becoming more scarce comparatively Therefore as his little argument is summed up a marriage dole is the only proper method to correct the condition

What's the use of pointing out to this gentleman and to many others of like attitude that carrying out their suggested policy would do harm to the government as a whole by opening a way for further cumbering its function? Even with the contemporary and horrible example of England to confront them, in which the worst evils of the dole system and expansion of governmental duties in general may be seen the reformers persist in saying that their own little piece of legislation justifies any means to correct the evil it is aimed at

As a matter of fact how many American husbands would ask for handouts on account of their married state Hardship—the average citizen of this country hardly recognizes the name Certain officious persons found they couldn't get far in the matter of giving doles to the American farmer Our agriculturists have said let us alone and results are now proving them to be right How much more firmly would our young married people say that word No

Some things can be legislated in or out of existence Marriage fortunately does not belong to that class If it is folly to restrict the weddings of our youth certainly it is still less wise to prod them forward with a crude legislative instrument

The Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

The fleet had just been to Australia to impress Japan with how big we are I just met an old Oklahoma boy who was raised in Chelsea and he is a captain in the navy has gone through Annapolis and we all are mighty proud of him His name is Joe Clark and he is part Cherokee Indian He is in the naval aviation now

Well Joe has had quite a bit of experience and he told me the following as a fact and there is one thing they do learn you at Annapolis and that is to try and quit lying

Joe was making the rounds of inspection on a boat one day and noticed that one of the gobs had no tooth brush

Where's your tooth brush? said Joe

Here it is sir said the gob producing a large scrubbing brush

You don't mean to tell me that you can get that thing into your mouth do you

No sir replied the sailor I take my teeth out

Now when the war was on they wouldn't let a fellow in the service if he didn't have all his teeth They figured that it might come to a hand to hand battle and our boys might have to bite em

But now they are not so strict In fact they figure the more false teeth the less toothache

Anyhow the boys had a great time in Australia Some of them got married again

Express Company Service Excels, Publishers Claim

CHICAGO Aug [illegible]—(A P)—Cheaper rates offered by express and railroad companies and less red tape in the handling of deliveries have caused newspaper publishers to withhold most of their shipments of paper from the postal service This was the consensus of testimony Friday before the joint congressional committee investigating the effect of increased postal rates

The sub committee devoted most of the day to reports of circulation managers of some of the country's greatest newspapers

The witnesses thought the government might retrieve the lost business by delivery of packages of newspaper on a basis of competition both as regards service and cost

Max Annenberg representing the Chicago Tribune publications told of the heavy withdrawal of newspaper shipments following the institution of the postal zone rates

We were good customers of the postoffice department before the zone rate went into effect he said Now the railroads and the express companies are soliciting our business continually If the express and baggage people can make money out of their rates there is no reason why the postoffice department can't

HEAR ARGUMENTS IN YOUNG TRIAL

Nurse Identifies Gas Appliance Used In Alleged Murder of Wife.

LOS ANGELES Aug 22—(By the Associated Press)—Attorneys for both sides in the trial of Dr Thomas Young a dentist charged with murdering his wife and concealing her body in a cistern began arguments on a legal conflict here late Friday over alleged statements the dentist is said to have made to his office nurse a few minutes before he made three purported confessions which he later repudiated

Court adjourned until next Tuesday when Judge Edwin F Hahn is expected to rule on the argument

The battle started when Mrs Dorothy Mahan formerly Miss [illegible] the nurse was questioned by the district attorney and told to relate the private conversation which she said the dentist had a few minutes before the purported confessions were made She is said to have persuaded her former employer to confess

Before the argument the nurse identified a lethal gas appliance with which the dentist is charged with suffocating his wife and the court allowed her conclusion that it was the identical appliance which was missing from Young's dental office after the alleged crime had been committed

She also identified a long rubber bag which was said to have been jammed in the throat of Mrs Grace Logan Young the dead woman, when her body was discovered in a cistern crypt She believed the bag was formerly used in Young's office

SAYS BIBLE OF DIVINE ORIGIN

Speaker At Lutheran Convention Insists Entire Work Inspired.

(Special to The Star)

BLUE HILL, Neb., Aug. 22.—"Christ's attitude towards the scriptures," was the topic discussed at the convention of the Southern Nebraska district of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church in session here. The seven day meetings opened last Wednesday and will be brought to a close on Tuesday afternoon.

"The unassailable evidence for the authority and truthfulness of the scripture," said Prof. Aug. Schueike of Seward, who led the discussion, "is the attitude the Lord Jesus Christ took toward it." He stated that while men generally regarded Jesus of Nazareth very highly as a man, many believe Him to have been nothing more. "Christ," said the speaker, "the Son of Mary, born at Bethlehem, claims a singular relation to the heavenly Father. Teaching His disciples and others to pray. He said, 'Our Father,' but concerning His relation to God He asserted that He is the Son of God in a peculiar sense, the Only Begotten of the Father, God of God, Light of Light, in short, He is the Godman the true Emanuel."

Having established the deity of Jesus, the speaker set forth the attitude of the divine Christ to the scripture, basing his remarks upon the prayer of Jesus "Thy word is the truth." "Christ," he said, "often referred to 'the law, the prophets, and the psalms' which constitute the old testament canon, and solemnly asserted them to be the word of God and hence infallible truth."

The speaker held it to be imperative to keep the foregoing in mind when confronted by the claims of those who belittle or attack the authority and truthfulness of the scripture. "According to some," he said, "there are human and divine element in the scriptures. They are willing to recognize in spiritual things the divine authorship of the Bible, but brand the reference of scripture to astronomy, biology, history, and similar scientific matters as expressing the prevalent beliefs of the people of that day." To this the speaker took exception. He maintained that not only the spiritual message of the Bible is divine truth, but the scientific and historical statements also are the word of God.

The board for home missions in Nebraska appealed for a fund of $30,000 to carry on the work of the church in this field. Forty-one workers are under the jurisdiction of the board. Thirty-five per cent of the proposed budget will go to the support of Lutheran Christian day schools.

FOSSIL MOLLUSKS FOUND IN DAWES

Rare Discovery In Made By Mrs. Harold Cook Of Agate, Neb.

AGATE, Neb., Aug. 22.—(AP)—While tracing the meanderings of a prehistoric river channel in Dawes county, Mrs. Harold J. Cook and daughter, Eleanor, of Agate, found several pelcypods, shellfish of a prehistoric age.

These mollusks, resmbling the modern clam-fish, were found by Mrs. Cook in the oligocene formation. This formation represents a sub-division of the prehistoric tertiary formation of the earth's surface.

Mrs. Cook will go to Lincoln this week or next and present her findings to the state museum, University of Nebraska, for analysis by Professor E. H. Barbour, director of the state geological survey, who has already commented upon the importance of the discovery. Approximately 100 of these specimens will be figured and described, Prof. Barbour has informed Mrs. Cook. This is the first time, the professor told her, that pelicypods have been found in the oligocene.

Harold Cook, husband of Mrs. Cook, has also made discoveries in this district. Several years ago he found the bones of a fossil. The skull, almost without break or blemish of any kind, is that of a primitive "four horned antelope," Prof Barbour said.

"It has wide orbits," he found "a tapering snout, and a well-proportioned outline presaging a beast of grace and beauty equal to that of any living or extinct species.

"As to its allied forms, the fossil seems to have resembled protoceras, a primitive animal resembling a sheep but somewhat larger, found in the White river beds of South Dakota."

In Sioux county, 1907, Professor Barbour himself made valuable discoveries. He found a "pocket" of bones near here. They represent a variety of animals, of which several appear to be undescribed, according to his report.

These discoveries by him, together with Mrs. Cook's findings, will be reconsidered in an effort to establish more definite data on these prehistoric mammals and mollusks.

CITY TO OBSERVE LAFAYETTE DAY

Lincoln to Combine Occasion With Labor Day and State Fair Opening.

Steps toward a city-wide observance of Lafayette-Marne day, Labor day and the official opening of the Nebraska state fair, September 6, will be taken by Mayor Zehrung, he announced Saturday following the receipt of a communication from the Lafayette day national society in New York City. It is planned to hold the observance here on Monday, September 7, instead of on Sunday, but the mayor intends to ask every minister in the city to devote one of his Sunday sermons to the events falling on that date. In his communication to the ministers the mayor will suggest that the part Lafayette played in the original thirteen states gaining their freedom from Great Britain and the effect it has had on the destinies of the world, be the outstanding thought of the sermons.

Mayor Zehrung will issue a proclamation before September 7, asking that the curb flags and all others in the city be displayed that day with the Tri-color of France.

Fan Flames In Tujugna Forest Into Worst Fire Of the Year.

PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.) — Tricky winds playing havoc with efforts of forest rangers yesterday swirled the big Tujunga brush fire into the worst this year in the Angels National forest, north of here.

Officials in charge of the fire fighting announced late yesterday that they do not anticipate getting the flames under control for four days and it may take weeks to completely extinguish the fire, they said

Last night the spread southward of the flames endangered Vogel Flats, in the southern en dof Tujunga forest. More than 5,000 acres have been burned over since Tuesday when the fire started, forest rangers said.

Klan Wants to 'Bring America From Paganism'

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Clyde W. Osborn, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, announced Friday that the annual meeting of the grand dragons of the United States, which opens at Buckeye Lake, near here, next Tuesday, will have for its object the organizing "a drive to bring America from pagan civilization—to return the church to Christ."

The meeting will continue throughout the following Sunday, the last two days being given over to the Ohio klonklave.

According to Mr. Osborn, the question of barring the teaching of the theory of evolution in the schools is not considered a serious matter with the klan and no concerted effort is to be made to bar it. The klan does insist, however, he said, that the Bible teachings of the miraculous birth of Christ be taught alongside the evolution theory, and indicated that the klan expectes to continue the fight to bring about compulsory Bible education in the schools.

Condemn Britain's Attitude In Aiding Zionist Movement

VIENNA, Aug. 22—(Jewish Telegraph Agency.)—Criticism of great Britain as the power which undertook the mandate of Palestine to assist in the creation of a Jewish national home there, was voiced by Louis Lipsky, chairman of the Zionist Organization of America, in an address before Friday's session of the fourteenth Zionist conference.

"I am bound to express the disappointment of American Zionists," he said, "over the fact that the mandatory power conceives its task in Palestine as that of an arbiter between two contending forces, instead of moving forward voluntarily and actively supporting the making of the Jewish national home.

"The mandatory power has seen fit to adopt the attitude of 'benevolent neutrality,' which it has abandoned only in exceptional cases."

Kewanee, Illinois —"When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine Last spring and summer I got all run-down irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved Now I do all my own work and help others I sure praise Lydia E Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my teens and until I started taking the Vegetable Compound —Mrs MARY R BENEDICT, 313 Payson St, Kewanee Ill.

POOR PUBLICITY FOR NEBRASKA.

Another example of the brand of publicity which is proving hurtful to Nebraska's interests is furnished in the regular weekly crop summary issued by the United States weather bureau at Lincoln.

After describing the climatic conditions which prevailed for the week ended August 19, the summary goes on to say:

"Early corn is poor and too far advanced to be helped much by current weather conditions. Late corn is making good, but not rapid progress in most sections, but rain is still needed in the northeastern counties and in other scattered localities."

No doubt Thomas A. Blair, the government meteorologist, gave the most painstaking care to the information which was in his possession. He has approximately sixty correspondents in various sections of Nebraska, each of whom reports on the conditions in his particular locality. From these reports Mr. Blair prepares his summary. Of course all crop information must necessarily be a matter of estimate. The final figures prepared by the government represent only careful estimates. It is understood that they are only approximate, but they should at least conform generally to the facts.

Now the truth of the matter is that all early corn in Nebraska is not poor or is not too advanced to be very materially improved by the rains which came most opportunely in August. There are large sections in Nebraska which are anticipating harvesting one of the largest corn crops on record and there have been innumerable reports of a condition said to be the best in years. Nothing beyond a most abnormal and unseasonable frost can prevent Nebraska from harvesting better than an average crop of corn and in some localities, the greatest crop that has been raised in recent years.

The comeback which Nebraska corn staged in the first fifteen days of August, after the most punishing heat of early July and the absence of moisture during the last two weeks of that month is one of the most amazing stories in the agricultural history of this state. Three weeks ago a prominent banker of Seward, closely in touch with the farming conditions of his community, reported that he feared irreparable damage to the crop in his home county and a prospect of an exceedingly small yield. Three days ago he said the August rains had performed a miracle and Seward would harvest a big crop of corn. That is the word which is coming from many Nebraska counties.

Those splendid counties in southeastern Nebraska, embracing Otoe, Nemaha, Richardson, Pawnee, Johnson and Cass have never despaired of a corn crop at any time during the summer. They have had an abundance of moisture during all of the growing season. There is indisputable authority for the statement that in these counties particularly a crop unexcelled in recent years has already been assured, with estimates of yields ranging from 50 up to as high as 75 and 80 bushels an acre. They raise a lot of corn in this territory.

There are isolated sections in Nebraska where conditions may warrant Mr. Blair's language. They are few and far between. In some of the southwestern Nebraska counties and along the extreme northeast tier, corn has suffered some depreciation. It is not a general condition such as one might infer from the report. The most conservative grain men in the state now estimate that Nebraska's crop will slightly exceed that of a year ago. A year ago we raised 200,000,000 bushels. We have raised less than 200,000,000 bushels of corn more years than we have exceeded that mark.

Nebraska should be more jealous of her standing in the nation. A short time ago she was ranked below Indiana and Missouri in prospective corn production. If the estimates for those states were correct, she will exceed each of them by several million bushels. Her farmers and her citizens are entitled to credit, and they should not be made to suffer through misinformation sent out by governmental agencies.

EQUALITY IN TRANSPORTATION RATES.

Lincoln's good wishes and sympathetic interest are extended to the smaller interior cities of the state that have just organized to obtain for themselves an adjustment of railroad freight rates which will place them on more equal terms with the wholesale and manufacturing points situated on the Missouri river. These cities are as much entitled to fair treatment by the carriers as any other shipping centers.

Because of its own experience in being forced to battle for many years against discriminatory rates, some of which have only lately been done away with, Lincoln has a fellow feeling for its Nebraska neighbors that are still struggling under such handicaps. This city has never asked for itself special concessions or advantages at the expense of others. It relies upon its geographical location in the center of a marvelously productive agricultural region, and upon the enterprise of its citizens, to attract trade and build up its industries.

Many of the inequalities which persist in the rate and classification schedules of the transportation companies are a survival of the days when rebates and other preferential treatment were accorded to favored shippers and communities. There is no good reason for their continuance. Rates should bear a reasonably close relation to the cost of service. The whole middle west is opposed to letting the carriers haul cargoes from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and back, at rates low enough to compete with ships passing through the Panama canal, allowing them to make up the difference by charging much higher rates in this section, where there is no water competition. It is manifestly unfair that a long haul of 2,500 to 3,000 miles should be made for a less charge than one of half that distance to an interior point. Equity also dictates that the cities of central Nebraska should not have to pay twice as much freight on goods shipped from New York or Chicago as is collected where the shipment stops at the Missouri river. They should pay a little more—enough to cover the additional mileage—but nothing like the difference that prevails under schedules now in effect on various commodities.

Of necessity, being an interior point itself, Lincoln has had to adjust itself in the past to the Missouri river basis. In its fight for fair rates, the capital city received no assistance from any other trade center in Nebraska. If Grand Island, Hastings and some of the others had joined with Lincoln when it was in the midst of the battle their united efforts might have established a new basis that would have taken care of all. Without this help, all Lincoln could do was to secure recognition for itself on an equal basis with Omaha, Sioux City, and Council Bluffs, so far as the combination of in-and-out shipments goes. That goal has finally been achieved after many years of constant effort.

Fremont, Beatrice and Norfolk, situated about the same distance west of the Missouri river as Lincoln is, have automatically been given the same rate adjustment. They have not had to do much fighting themselves, although they have benefitted as the result of Lincoln's activity.

If a word of advice be in order to Columbus, Central City, Grand Island, Hastings and other cities that may become affiliated with the new traffic league of central Nebraska, it is suggested that they address themselves to obtaining reductions in their own rates which will tend to equalize existing conditions, and not lend aid to any campaign which might have the effect of raising rates to or from other cities in the eastern part of the state.

LENROOT'S CHALLENGE TO THE LA FOLLETTE DYNASTY.

There is a death struggle on in Wisconsin which promises to attract the attention of the entire nation.

When Senator Lenroot, speaking for the regular republicans, who in state convention nominated Roy P. Wilcox to fill the vacancy caused by Fighting Bob's death, designated the candidacy of young La Follette as that of the heir apparent, he voiced a protest which is certain to be heard more frequently as the campaign progresses.

Young La Follette has few qualifications for his father's place. He has none of the vibrant personalty of the late senator, none of his natural gifts of oratory, and little of the brilliant mental equipment of the late progressive chieftain. There have been few better-informed men in congress than Fighting Bob. There have been few so loved and so hated; so reverenced and so despised. The thought of young La Follette attempting to grace the position which his father occupied must appeal to the humor of even those who through a sense of loyalty to old Bob will stick with the son.

It may be expected that Lenroot and his associates will not fail to make the most of the situation. In life they could not cope with Fighting Bob. They may succeed in evening the score by defeating the son who aspires to follow in his father's footsteps. It will be a fight well worth the watching although devoid of the issues which formerly characterized the bitter contests in the Badger state. In fact the only issue which the voters may be expected to decide is whether the son shall succeed to the senatorial post which his father held through a quarter of a century of savage, unrelenting warfare.

A MARRIAGE DOLE.

What amounts to a public dole is now suggested as a means of making married life in the United States more attractive. The promoter of the scheme is Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the University of Chicago, who views with customary alarm our decreasing marriage rate.

The single man has learned, says the professor, that married life means a lower standard of living and in some cases real hardships. As a result, married men are becoming more scarce, comparatively. Therefore, as his little argument is summed up, a marriage dole is the only proper method to correct the condition.

What's the use of pointing out to this gentleman and to many others of like attitude that carrying out their suggested policy would do harm to the government as a whole by opening a way for further cumbering its function? Even with the contemporary and horrible example of England to confront them, in which the worst evils of the dole system and expansion of governmental duties in general may be seen, the reformers persist in saying that their own little piece of legislation justifies any means to correct the evil it is aimed at.

As a matter of fact, how many American husbands would ask for handouts on account of their married state. Hardship—the average citizen of this country hardly recognizes the name. Certain officious persons found they couldn't get far in the matter of giving doles to the American farmer. Our agriculturists have said, "let us alone," and results are now proving them to be right. How much more firmly would our young married people say that word, "No."

Some things can be legislated in or out of existence. Marriage, fortunately does not belong to that class. If it is folly to restrict the weddings of our youth, certainly it is still less wise to prod them forward with a crude legislative instrument.

THINK ANDERSON OUT OF COUNTRY

Believed Slayer of Hance and Wife Escaped On Vessel On Gulf Coast.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Somewhere out in the Gulf of Mexico today, moving southeastward, sailed a small schooner-yacht which authorities of Gulfport, Miss., believe carried "Dutch" Anderson, mail robber and alleged killer of Ben Hance and his wife.

The "Ida Q," on which the pal of Gerald Chapman is believed to have escaped from the United States was stolen Tuesday night from its moorings at Gulfport. It was sighted yesterday by the steam merchant ship Detroit-Wayne 500 miles out in the gulf. In reporting its observation of the sail boat by radio, the Detroit-Wayne operator described the schooner in terms which exactly fit the missing craft.

The Gulfport chief of police expressed the belief that the crew of the fifty-five foot sailing vessel were without provisions. A round of the grocers here disclosed that no order for ship's stores had been filled recently.

U. S. Flier On Riffian Front Hurt In a Fall

CASAS BLANCA, French Morocco, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The American flying squadron volunteering for service with the French against the Riffians suffered its first casualty when Lieut. Colonel Charles Kerwood of Philadelphia, fell during a training flight. He was painfully but not dangerously injured.

Probe Death of A Colorado Girl

GREELEY, Colo., Aug. 22.—(AP)—County officers today are investigating a story told to them by an 8-year-old Eaton, Colo., boy that Isabelle Rameriz, 7, whose body was found in a water filled coal pit near Eaton yesterday, was the victim of foul play.

The youth, whose name is withheld, declared that he saw two large boys club the girl to death and then watched them throw the body into the pit.

A coroner's inquest will be held late today.

Football Weather In Middlewest As Temperature Sinks

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The first faint whiff of football weather spread over the middlewest and east Friday, sending temperatures down into the late fifties and sixties, with scattered showers. Oklahoma was visited by a freak snow storm and at White River, Ont., the thermometer fell 2 points below freezing.

The MacMillan north pole expedition reported unusually early signs of winter. New York's weather dropped from 84 to 57 Friday evening. Kansas slid from 106 a few days ago to 61 and around Chicago a steady drop in the mercury was observed.

The weather man offered a different promise of slightly warmer weather today as indication that football was yet a few weeks away.

Banking Reserve Shows Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows excess reserve of $25,125,200. This is an increase in reserve of $20,057,930, compared with last week.

The Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

The fleet had just been to Australia, to impress Japan with how big we are. I just met an old Oklahoma boy who was raised in Chelsea, and he is a captain in the navy, has gone through Annapolis, and we all are mighty proud of him. His name is Joe Clark and he is part Cherokee Indian. He is in the naval aviation now.

Well, Joe has had quite a bit of experience and he told me the following as a fact, and there is one thing they do learn you at Annapolis and that is to try and quit lying.

Joe was making the rounds of inspection on a boat one day and noticed that one of the gobs had no tooth brush.

"Where's your tooth brush?" said Joe.

"Here it is, sir," said the gob producing a large scrubbing brush.

"You don't mean to tell me that you can get that thing into your mouth, do you?"

"No, sir," replied the sailor. "I take my teeth out."

Now when the war was on they wouldn't let a fellow in the service if he didn't have all his teeth. They figured that it might come to a hand to hand battle and our boys might have to bite 'em.

But now they are not so strict. In fact they figure the more false teeth the less toothache.

Anyhow the boys had a great time in Australia. Some of them got married again.

PEACHES AND PERSIMMONS

Example of peace overture: "Take this, Honey, and buy you a hat."

Why shouldn's great men come from small towns? Great cities do.

But think how Jonah must have strained his arms telling his story.

Uplift: A nation-wide movement to straighten out the mess left by parents.

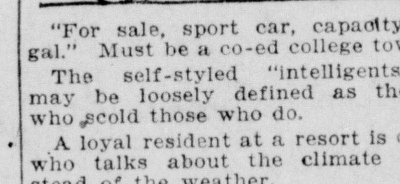
The profits seem to be greatest just before shrewdness merges into crookedness.



"For sale, sport car, capacity 2 gal." Must be a co-ed college town.

The self-styled "intelligentsia" may be loosely defined as those who scold those who do.

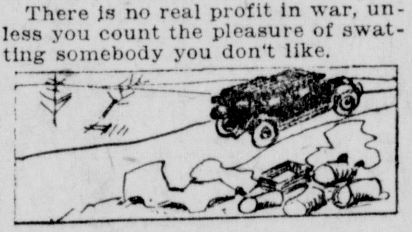
A loyal resident at a resort is one who talks about the climate instead of the weather.

A pot hunter is a flivverite who waits until pedestrians are bunched at an intersection.

A sweet and gentle face is a handicap, however, if you are a taxi driver depending on tips.

Among the many unimportant things in the world is a cynical old bachelor's opinion of censorship.

There is no real profit in war, unless you count the pleasure of swatting somebody you don't like.



Picnickers are people who leave other trash and take away their ancient flivver.

A maid is not heartless. She produces the old boy's love letters in court, but not his efforts at poetry.

An alien may learn to respect American institutions, but one must be born to corn on the cob.

When a miner makes faces at a coal operator, it is a sign that something will happen to the consumer's neck.

Baltimore has a dry agent who is "in it for the excitement." Well, one man against 800,000 shouldn't lack adventure.

Correct this sentence: "His estate was divided among nine of us," said the man, "and all of us are satisfied."

Montana Man New National Adjutant Of Disabled Vets

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 22—(AP)—John W. Mahan, national commander of the disabled American veterans of the World war, announced here late Friday that V. D. Corbly, Missoula, Mont., has been appointed assistant national adjutant in place of Joseph Loos, Cincinnati, who resigned.

Corbly is editor of the Missoula Sentinenal, a daily newspaper. He served with the marine corps, Second division, throughout the war and was severely wounded in action. Corbly was rehabilitated by the United States veterans bureau and was graduated with honors from the school of journalism at University of Montana.

"Corby will have charge of the Disabled American Veterans Weekly at the national headquarters in Cincinnati," said Mahan.

Quarter Billion Tax Reduction Is Asked by Watson

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—A tax reduction of at least a quarter of a billion dollars was advocated by United States Senator James E. Watson, speaking Friday night before the Indiana council of the National Republican Constructive league.

"The next congress," he said, "should repeal the tax on automobiles. These taxes constitute a real burden on the body of the people. It should repeal all the nuisance taxes which enter into the great majority of our homes and directly add to the cost of living."

The senator also advocated the consolidation of railroads.

Turkish Women Discarding Veil And Copying Western Sisters

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The Turkish woman no longer is the hot house creature she is pictured to be in western imagination. Gradually but surely she is discarding her veil and showing her face in public; she is becoming an ardent sportswoman and also she is taking up the hat and other habiliments of her western sister.

All this is due to the sanction of the new Angora government, headed by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, and to a great broadening in public opinion. Recently there was a swimming race for girls before a mixed gathering of spectators. Not only did the women compete in the race with the greatest of zest, but afterward a photograph of the winners, still attired in their bathing suits was published.

In other times this would have brought criticism upon them, and possibly dire punishment.

Progressiveness among Turkish women is being applauded. The wearing of a hat, instead of the one time obligatory veil, was started by a Turkish girl, Hadije Selma Ekrem, who recently has been lecturing in the United States on Turkish questions. She discovered on her return to Turkey that men were being permitted to wear hats instead of the fez turban, and therefore determined to continue wearing her American hat. A year ago refusal by a woman to wear a veil might have resulted in action by the police.

PERSHING AIDS IN PEACE MOVE

Peruvian Newspaper Causes Hostility Among Arica Inhabitants.

ARICA, Chile, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gen. John J. Pershing, president of the Tacna-Arica plebiscite commission, intervened yesterday when the hostility of Arica's Chilean inhabitants to the newspaper published and distributed here by the Peruvian delegation to the commission resulted in disorders in front of his residence.

A Chilean crowd in the morning frightened news boys into the doorway of General Pershing's residence, where three members of the American commission intervened.

When the general's attention was called to the incident, he immediately visited Augustin Edwards, head of the Chilean delegation, and afterwards announced that the Peruvians "will have a perfect right to sell papers anywhere in the city."

The Aricans' hostility to the paper, which is published aboard the Peruvian transport Ucayali, has increased daily since it first appeared, August 1.

AIRPLANE DROP TO AID HEARING

Omaha Capitalist Dives Thousands Of Feet With Seeming Results.

OMAHA, Aug. 22.—(AP)—In an effort to regain his hearing, which he lost 18 years ago in a dynamite explosion in a Wyoming coal mine E. A. Higgins, Omaha capitalist, Friday took an airplane ride which took him to an altitude of 13,200 feet from which a sudden descent was made to 2,200 feet altitude.

While the sudden drop did not restore his hearing, Mr. Higgins said it brought to his ears a sensation they had never known before.

"I can feel a stirring ring in my ears," hes aid as he climbed out of the passenger pit of the plane which was piloted by Sergeant C. W. Haynes of Fort Crook. "However this flight has started something working in my ears which I may derive some degree of benefit from."

Arrangements for the flight were made through Congressman Sears who obtained permission from the war department for use of the army plane.

Cruiser Bearing Bancroft's Body Is Close to U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bearing the body of Edgar Bancroft, late American ambassador to Japan, the cruiser Tama of the imperial Japanese navy, is due to arrive in San Francisco bay at 2 o'clock this afternoon. United States destroyers will meet the boat and a salute of twenty-one guns will be fired, answered by Fort Scott as the harbor is entered.

After appropriate military ceremonies, the body will be transferred to the San Francisco Overland Limited on which it will be transported to Chicago for burial.

The official funeral ehcort for the body during its movements here will include 100 Japanese sailors from the Tama, the Sixty-third coast artillery regiment, a battalion of marines and one of seamen.

The honorary pallbearers will include Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, commander of the Ninth corps area. The start eastward will be about 11 o'clock at Oakland, Sunday morning.

Judge Wheeler Back, Finds Conditions in West Are Better

The irrigated Platte valley country in western Nebraska is in wonderful condition and crops there are among the best in the state, District Judge Mason Wheeler, who returned Friday from a week's trip to Scottsbluff, declares.

Land sales, which were almost ended during the slump, are again beginning, the judge stated, and a fair price is being obtained.

The beet and potato crops are excellent, he said.

Capital Beach Has Two Bears

Temporary quarters for two cub bears sent to W. E. Sharp from the Canadian Rockies by Robert Ferguson have been fitted up in an empty booth at Capital Beach, awaiting the construction of more permanent cages.

The cubs arrived this week in an express crate without explanation. A letter came from Mr. Ferguson later saying a friend at Duluth had given him the bears after their capture in the mountains and that he in turn had forwarded them to Lincoln.

Mr. Sharp says the pair will be kept as a nucleus for a zoo, but he is not sure what the next new acquisition will be. In the meantime, the cubs seem perfectly satisfied, eat everything that the scores of visitors feed them, and fight and wrestle all day. They weigh about 60 or 70 pounds each.

Express Company Service Excels, Publishers Claim

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—Cheaper rates offered by express and railroad companies and less red tape in the handling of deliveries have caused newspaper publishers to withhold most of their shipments of paper from the postal service. This was the consensus of testimony Friday before the joint congressional committee investigating the effect of increased postal rates.

The sub-committee devoted most of the day to reports of circulation managers of some of the country's greatest newspapers.

The witnesses thought the government might retrieve the lost business by delivery of packages of newspaper on a basis of competition, both as regards service and cost.

Max Annenberg, representing the Chicago Tribune publications, told of the heavy withdrawal of newspaper shipments following the institution of the postal zone rates.

"We were good customers of the postoffice department before the zone rate went into effect," he said. "Now the railroads and the express companies are soliciting our business continually. If the express and baggage people can make money out of their rates, there is no reason why the postoffice department can't."

HEAR ARGUMENTS IN YOUNG TRIAL

Nurse Identifies Gas Appliance Used In Alleged Murder of Wife.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.— (By the Associated Press.)— Attorneys for both sides in the trial of Dr. Thomas Young, a dentist, charged with murdering his wife and concealing her body in a cistern, began arguments on a legal conflict here late Friday over alleged statements the dentist is said to have made to his office nurse a few minutes before he made three purported confessions, which he later repudiated.

Court adjourned until next Tuesday when Judge Edwin F. Hahn is expected to rule on the argument.

The battle started when Mrs. Dorothy Mahan, formerly Miss Leopold, the nurse, was questioned by the district attorney, and told to relate the private conversation which she and the dentist had a few minutes before the purported confessions were made. She is said to have persuaded her former employer to confess.

Before the argument, the nurse identified a lethal gas appliance, with which the dentist is charged with suffocating his wife and the court allowed her conclusion that it was the identical appliance which was missing from Young's dental office after the alleged crime had been committed.

She also identified a long rubber bag, which was said to have been jammed in the throat of Mrs. Grace Grogan Young, the dead woman, when her body was discovered in a cistern crypt. She "believed the bag was formerly used in Young's office."

Livestock Club Entries For Fair Set a New Mark

(Associated Press.

Entries for the Nebraska State Fair boys and girls livestock club competition this year will be the largest ever staged in the fair coliseum.

Entries have closed with 193 baby beeves registered by boys and girls to compete in the show on Monday morning of fair week. This number is about twice that shown last year when the baby beef exhibit was recognized at the big livestock attraction. The entries will be shown by members from 2 clubs over the state. The young farmers have fed and groomed their entries for the past nine or ten months in preparation for the show and sale at the fair.

The young exhibitors will be dressed in white suits which are being furnished this year by the fair board. the sight as the club members compete this year "will be the most beautiful in the coliseum," L. I. Frisbie, state agricultural agent in charge of extension work said today in describing plans for the show. The exhibitors will take part in a "baby beef parade" Thursday afternoon before the grandstand and in a showman's contest that afternoon.

Fifteen dairy calves have been entered by the boys and girls. Few of the youngsters in Nebraska have purebred calves in the dairy clubs so the entries in this class are relatively small.

Exhibitors of pigs have reserved 107 pens, which will take care of about 300 head. This is a considerably larger number than entered last year.

Entries have not yet closed in the demonstrations and judging team classes but more are already in than were received last year. Mr. Frisbie estimated today that at least 75 demonstration teams would compete in the various classes.

Santa Barbara's Poorer Residents Are Still In Need

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—Four-fifths of the poorer residents of Santa Barbara whose homes were destroyed or damaged in the recent earthquake are now objects of charity, Mrs. Nancy Winch Emery, superintendent of the Associated charities in that city, said in a letter received here today by the California Development association.

The association is heading an emergency campaign to raise $1,100,1000 for the immediate needs of the charities and destitute in the stricken city.

The number applying to the Associated charities for relief is increasing, Mrs. Emery said. She also said that there was some tendency to minimize the effects of the disaster as far as the poor were concerned, but their suffering is widespread and acute and funds are sorely needed to put them in a position where they will be self-supporting.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

HARTFORD, Conn.—The fellowship and popularity of golf, attributable to the nineteenth hole in the corner of a cozy clubhouse should exist among lawn bowlers, Thomas Grieves, president of the National Lawn Bowling association at a banquet Thursday night said. "Prohibition has not made any difference to the nineteenth hole at private golf courses and it shouldn't make any difference to lawn bowling," he said.

TULSA, Okla. — Eight persons were slightly injured when a freight car running wild down a hill crashed into a Sand Springs interurban train here yesterday. The train carried 125 passengers, many of them women.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Charges that a life guard employed at the city bathing pool in Genesee Valley park played a ukelele on the pool bank while Genevieve Breens, 9, drowned and that another guard answered calls from the child's playmates that they were "having pipe dreams," were made Friday by Leo Rice, attorney, who announced he had been retained by the child's mother to bring a $25,000 negligence action against the city.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK Aug 22—[illegible] day said

Each week's report [illegible] early the fact that [illegible] business situation [illegible] favor [illegible] encouragement has been [illegible] more results this summer which have been better on the whole than was anticipated and the confident tone of dispatches from leading trade centers is a distinguishing feature Progress [illegible] on a conservative basis this strengthening the prospect of its maintenance More or less expansion has [illegible] all of the principal industries The gain is more significant because it has come at a time of the year when a [illegible] tendency would not seem unnatural while conditions are more stable now and the outlook is more promising than has been the case for a long period Competition for orders is keen and there continues to be complaint of small profit margins in some important lines as in steel and textiles yet the main tendency of prices in other commodities than foodstuffs is still toward higher levels and there is no general disposition among buyers to defer commitments in the expectation of obtaining concessions

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK Aug 22

The high priced motor and special ty stocks gave ground today while the railroad stocks under the leadership of St Louis Southwestern Katy Pere Marquette and a number of the investment rails were forging ahead The market was not very active and week end profit taking in some sections of the list accounted for the reactionary price tone

Heavy buying of St Louis Southwest ern and Katy common [illegible] united [illegible] being [illegible] in the so called southwestern merger of [illegible] potation lines Southwestern at [illegible] showed a gain of [illegible] points in the first hour last week's closing price on this stock was 49 Katy common sold above 43 the highest price in its history and 3 points above the low of the week Rock Island which acquired control of the Cotton Belt lines sold about [illegible] points higher in an active market Colorado & Southern was [illegible] points higher North western rails were firm

The week end business reports were favorable both as to past developments and the outlook for the immediate future Expansion in proceeding favorably in the jobbing lines and manufacturers are preparing for an active fall season

Renewed buying of United States Steel at a point or more above yesterday's best [illegible] created a good impression in that section of the market and the independent steel stocks Crucible and Gulf [illegible] hand is a further reflection of the very favorable outlook in the copper industry with surplus stocks declining and [illegible] for the [illegible] metal hardening [illegible] American Smelting and Anaconda sold fractionally higher

White Motors and General Motors were pushed up during moderate rally in the [illegible] stocks in the second hour the latter being bought to the extra dividend [illegible] recently declared Industrial stocks lagged behind the market as did the utility stocks but mercantile stocks showed a slight improvement over the best previous price levels of the week

[illegible] points to 10 near the close of the market [illegible] American Can returned to its high [illegible] actively at 144¾ the best price for the movement The railroad stocks reached slightly higher price levels and other stocks remained featureless

A gain of about 1 point each in St Louis Southwestern consolidated 4s and [illegible] and in Katy adjustment 5s was the feature of the listed bond market today Strength in these bonds was in sympathy with the firm tone in the railroad stock market and precipitated the rise in the stocks of these companies Chesapeake & Ohio convertible 5s rose a point to 11[illegible]

There were no important changes in prices of Liberty bonds and treasury issues German government 7s sold above 97 for the first time on the movement and French government 7s were in demand above 91

Dodge Brothers new 6s made further recovery to above 96 on a good volume of trading Anaconda Copper 7s sold at 10[illegible] and American Telephone and Telegraph 5s at 96½

The [illegible] market was firm at the opening today with higher levels in the railroad and industrial stocks American Can was up 3 points at [illegible] [illegible] Electric up 2½ at 232 [illegible] Electric up 1¼ at 353 Sears Roebuck up 1 at [illegible] National Biscuit up ½ at 74

St Louis Southwestern common opened at a point higher at [illegible] Frisco common up ⅜ Union Pacific down [illegible] at [illegible] Iron Pipe was up [illegible] at [illegible] United States Steel down ⅛ at 1[illegible] Anaconda [illegible] up [illegible] at [illegible] Arrow preferred down ½ to 83

Asks For Report On Teachers Not Legally Qualified

Superintendents of schools in all counties of Nebraska are being asked by State Superintendent Matzen to check up on the certification of teachers and report to him any instances where boards of education in either city village or rural districts have employed teachers that are not legally qualified This has been made easier by the new state law which requires every teacher to register his or her certificate with the county superintendent and forbids school boards to hire teachers who are not so registered

All certificates are now issued by the state superintendent's office but the registration requirement [illegible] to know whether or not a teacher is properly certified Each school board must report to the county superintendent the name of the teacher when the contract is signed for his or her services It is made the county official's duty to inform the board if the teacher is not certified In that event the contract and certificate both become invalid and members of the board are held personally liable for any district funds paid to the unqualified teacher

At the same time Supt Matzen points out in his circular letter to county superintendents the district loses its share of state school apportionments by having an uncertified teacher and no credit can be given the school or its pupils for work done during the period of her employment

A year ago it was found that 106 teachers who did not have certificates were employed in Nebraska at the opening of the fall terms

LINCOLN MEN ENJOY RODEO

Delegation of Fifty-two Enthusiastic Over Frontier Show.

Attendance Was 25,000; Governor McMullen Makes 6 Addresses.

Returning about 6 o'clock [illegible] morning from Burwell where he and fifty one other Lincoln business men spent Friday afternoon attending a county fair and rodeo Secretary Whitten of the chamber of commerce said

"Burwell certainly is a wonderful town I never saw such hospitality as was displayed by the people there Friday This coupled with the accommodations the little city has provided for the crowds which gather there annually was astonishing to every member of the Lincoln party"

There were at least 25 000 people at the exhibition Friday afternoon according to Mr Whitten who said that by the time the Lincoln train reached Burwell the fifty two from here had swelled to at least 400

The train was met at Greeley by County Attorney Lafferty and a cow girl quartet composed of Mr Lafferty's daughter and Miss Gavin Miss Langstrom and Mrs Feltz who returned to Burwell with the delegation singing enroute Just outside Burwell the train was met by another delegation and by a fleet of airplanes and escorted to the fair grounds

Governor's Talk Popular

Governor McMullen joined the party at Central City and was one of the busiest men in the group following its arrival on the grounds The chief executive made six addresses

The exhibits at the fair were among the best Mr Whitten had ever seen he stated and particularly was this true of the agricultural implements horses cattle hogs and sheep and the horticultural display

"Had I not seen it for myself it would have been almost impossible for me to believe that a country located on the edge of the sandhills could produce the products seen there Friday afternoon

The combined show is rated as either second or third in the country for a county exposition according to Mr Whitten

The chamber of commerce at Burwell is known as the Wranglers indicative of the cow country Whitten said

Because of the large number on the train from other towns the schedule was changed at Burwell and the special did not leave there until 9 30 Friday night and the Lincoln delegation did not reach home until 6 o'clock Saturday morning

RAILWAYS LOSING ON SHORT HAULS

Exhibit By State Commission Shows This Traffic Going by Automobile.

A marked decline in less than carload freight revenue and in receipts from the sale of passenger tickets on the Union Pacific railroad to and from points between Columbus and Millard inclusive is shown to have taken place since 1920 in a tabulation prepared and given out at the office of the state railway commission

There is no showing as to the volume of carload freight business to and from these stations or how much money was taken in from the sale of passenger tickets to points outside Nebraska General railroad statistics for the whole of the United States during the past few weeks have shown the greatest total number of car loadings in their history The Union Pacific is one of the roads which have been favored with a heavy tonnage of carload freight

The purpose of the railway commission's exhibit is to show that local short haul traffic both passenger and freight has been largely diverted in recent years to automobile trucks and busses A campaign is being conducted by the railroads throughout the country to restrict the operations of these competitive carriers

The tonnage of carload freight handled in both directions at the Union Pacific stations referred to during the last five years is summarized as follows

SWAMPSCOTT Mass Aug 22—(A P)—Returning to his desk in his study at White Court today after an eight day absence President Coolidge found a mass of routine business waiting his consideration and a list of engagements that was a reminder of busy days at the white house

A BITTER FEUD ENDS IN DEATH OF BYSTANDER

coroner's jury to be convened today holds him responsible for the death Lassetter was in employ of the state highway department

"I regret more than anything this terrible occurrence and am grief stricken over it" Magee told newspaper men after the fight He received several bruises about his face and body and Leahy's upper left arm was shattered by the second bullet

A Colorful Career

The fight and shooting closed another chapter in the high tension career of Magee In July 1923 he was convicted of libel by a jury in Judge Leahy's court in connection with the publication of editorial attacks on Chief Justice F W Parker of the New Mexico Supreme court Sentenced to prison by Leahy he was pardoned by the then Gov James F Hinkle before being taken to the penitentiary

A year later he was haled into court by Leahy for editorially criticising the court while other charges in connection with the libel case were pending This time it was a contempt case Leahy held him in contempt and sentenced him to three months imprisonment In pronouncing sentence Judge Leahy branded Magee as a miscreant in the strongest of judicial terms He served one day and one night in jail and Governor Hinkle pardoned him again While imprisoned he is said to have smuggled copy to his newspaper continuing the attacks on Leahy

Aids in Oil Probe

Magee is credited with having aided in starting the investigation leading to the discovery of the little black satchel of Teapot Dome fame Early in January 1924 he was a witness before the senate oil committee and told the investigators of rumors he had heard about $100 000 in a suitcase running around in New Mexico

The committee later developed evidence that the $100 000 was from E L Doheny and was sent to Albert B Fall then secretary of the interior and negotiator of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills naval oil lease to Doheny and Harry F Sinclair

Magee bought the Albuquerque Morning Journal from Fall in 1920 and in 1924 gave evidence to the oil committee regarding Fall's financial condition He declared he had been approached with "Doheny money" when he had offered to sell the journal

Judge Not Re Elected

The contempt case was the last flare up of consequence between Magee and Leahy until last night but last fall he waged a sizzling campaign against the jurist who lost his fight for re election to the bench

In five years of activity in the political arena of New Mexico Magee had been republican democrat and independent He deserted the republicans in 1920 declaring the organization to be corrupt In 1924 he turned back to the republicans and ran against a close personal friend for office but 1925 found him again on the democratic side Last fall he was a candidate in the primaries for the democratic nomination for United States senator

RE-ORGANIZATION PLAN PROPOSED

Senator Wadsworth Urges Sweeping Changes In Executive Department.

Sees Simplification Of Government Work and Saving To Taxpayers.

SWAMPSCOTT Mass Aug 22—(By the Associated Press)—Tax reduction and reorganization of the executive department were proposed to President Coolidge today by Senator Wadsworth republican of New York as two of the major problems to be pressed at the next congress by the administration

Senator Wadsworth predicted that a tax bill providing reductions in both the surtax and normal income rates would be passed [illegible] March 1 when first payments on the new year are due He advocated that the administration then put through its plan for reorganization which provides for a new department of education and relief

Although some opposition has been voiced to provisions of the organization bill he was confident it could be passed in much the form as proposed to the last congress The chief benefit of such a bill would be the simplification of the government work and elimination of duplication thus saving in his opinion money to the taxpayers directly and indirectly

The president received a formal report today on business conditions from Postmaster General New who called to take up departmental problems with him Although the department's deficit for the last fiscal year of $37 000 000 was almost double that of the previous year Mr New reported that receipts had increased in practically every city He attributed the deficit to the increase in postal salaries which went into effect on January 1 Increased postal rates he pointed out did not become effective until April 1

He declined he would not take a hand in the congressional investigation now under way of increased postal rates and would make no proposals to congress on rates unless requested He did not discuss the rate question with the president

Lost His Dough, But Evened Up With Zbyszko

Strangler Lewis defeated Wladek Zbyszko after considerable wrestling in a Boston ring In a rather mauled condition Zbyszko went to his dressing room As he arrived there loud cheering broke forth in the arena Some local pride was being introduced and the crowd gave him an ovation But Zbyszko didn't know that and was curious

"What are they cheering about" he asked

"I'll find out" said one of his friends poking his head out of the door That particular friend had bet rather heavily on Zbyszko and was rather disgusted with the outcome He listened for a minute or two and then without a trace of a smile said to Zbyszko

"I guess it's because George Foulkes the referee has just announced that you are dead"

WASHINGTON — Tax reduction advocates received additional comfort yesterday from a treasury tabulation showing that in spite of the lower schedules which became effective this year, internal revenue collections for July amounted to $125,866,689, compared with $110,814,885 during the same month of 1924.

CHICAGO — No pretentious monument will mark the grave in Graceland cemetery wherein on Monday morning Victor Fremont Lawson, owner and editor of the Chicago Daily News will be buried. Though far from being commercially profitable, the experiments of Professors Adolph Miethe and Stammreich is yielding 10,000 times as much gold from the same amount of mercury as they did a year ago. Such an eminent skeptic as Prof. Fritz Haber, whose synthetic ammonia process played a large part in German war plans, the society reports, has been won over.

NEW YORK—Mayor Hylan's candidacy for renomination suffered two blows Friday in his own strongholds of Queens and Brooklyn, where defections from his ranks have been threatening for the past week. State Senator William L. Love, representing the home district of John H. McCooey, Brooklyn leader and Hylan supporter, announced his intention to support the Tammany ticket headed by State Senator James J. Walker, and the Democratic Club of Averne, Queens, also came out for Walker.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Mabel Gerry of Newport, to Mr. F. S. E. Drury of London, was made Friday by Mr. Elbright T. Gerry, her father. Raulston of Winchester, Tenn., who presided during the now famous Scopes trial, addressed a chautauqua audience here yesterday afternoon. Read Mrs. Benedict's Letter Praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kewanee, Illinois.—"When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run-down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my 'teens and until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MARY R. BENEDICT, 313 Payson St., Kewanee, Ill.

BOTHERED WITH LARGE PIMPLES

Hard, Red and Scaled Over. Itched Badly. Healed by Cuticura.

"I had pimples on my arms that bothered me for about two months. The pimples were hard, large and red, and scaled over. They itched and burned badly causing me to scratch. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using a few times I noticed an improvement so purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Elmira Gagnon, Hubbell, Mich.

Clear the pores of impurities by daily use of Cuticura Soap with touches of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soothe and heal. Cuticura Talcum is fragrant and refreshing, an ideal toilet powder.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

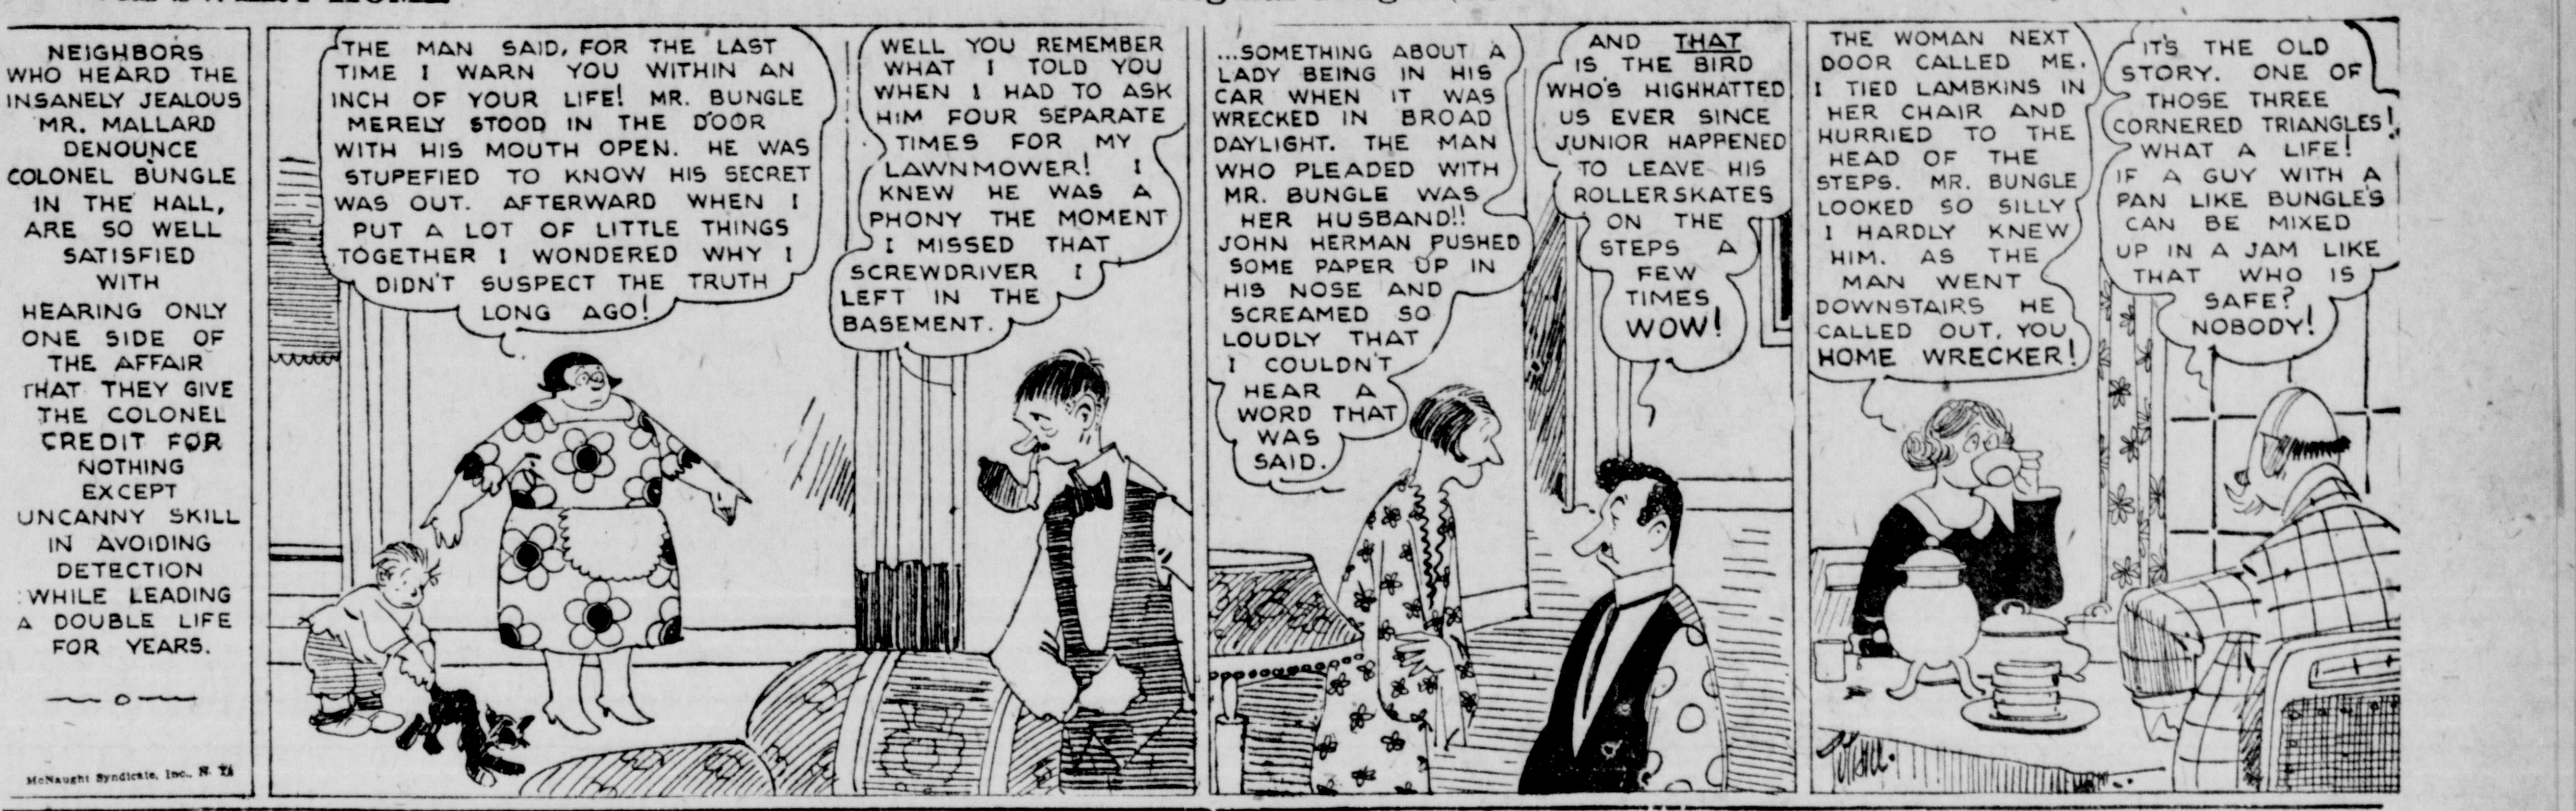
Regular Neighbors

By H. J. TUTHILL



NEIGHBORS WHO HEARD THE INSANELY JEALOUS MR. MALLARD DENOUNCE COLONEL BUNGLE IN THE HALL, ARE SO WELL SATISFIED WITH HEARING ONLY ONE SIDE OF THE AFFAIR THAT THEY GIVE THE COLONEL CREDIT FOR NOTHING EXCEPT UNCANNY SKILL IN AVOIDING DETECTION WHILE LEADING A DOUBLE LIFE FOR YEARS.
THE MAN SAID, FOR THE LAST TIME I WARN YOU WITHIN AN INCH OF YOUR LIFE! MR. BUNGLE MERELY STOOD IN THE DOOR WITH HIS MOUTH OPEN. HE WAS STUPEFIED TO KNOW HIS SECRET WAS OUT. AFTERWARD WHEN I PUT A LOT OF LITTLE THINGS TOGETHER I WONDERED WHY I DIDN'T SUSPECT THE TRUTH LONG AGO!
WELL YOU REMEMBER WHAT I TOLD YOU WHEN I HAD TO ASK HIM FOUR SEPARATE TIMES FOR MY LAWNMOWER! I KNEW HE WAS A PHONY THE MOMENT I MISSED THAT SCREWDRIVER I LEFT IN THE BASEMENT.
...SOMETHING ABOUT A LADY BEING IN HIS CAR WHEN IT WAS WRECKED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT. THE MAN WHO PLEADED WITH MR. BUNGLE WAS HER HUSBAND!! JOHN HERMAN PUSHED SOME PAPER UP IN HIS NOSE AND SCREAMED SO LOUDLY THAT I COULDN'T HEAR A WORD THAT WAS SAID.
AND THAT IS THE BIRD WHO'S HIGHHATTED US EVER SINCE JUNIOR HAPPENED TO LEAVE HIS ROLLERSKATES ON THE STEPS A FEW TIMES WOW!
THE WOMAN NEXT DOOR CALLED ME. I TIED LAMBKINS IN HER CHAIR AND HURRIED TO THE HEAD OF THE STEPS. MR. BUNGLE LOOKED SO SILLY I HARDLY KNEW HIM. AS THE MAN WENT DOWNSTAIRS HE CALLED OUT, YOU HOME WRECKER!
IT'S THE OLD STORY. ONE OF THOSE THREE CORNERED TRIANGLES! WHAT A LIFE! IF A GUY WITH A PAN LIKE BUNGLE'S CAN BE MIXED UP IN A JAM LIKE THAT WHO IS SAFE? NOBODY!

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Dun's today said:

Each week's report brings out more clearly the fact that most phases of the business situation are favorable. Encouragement has been derived from results this summer, which have been better on the whole than was anticipated and the confident tone of dispatches from leading trade centers is a distinguishing feature. Progress has been on a conservative basis, thus strengthening the prospect of its continuance. More or less expansion has occurred in all of the principal industries. The gain is more significant because it has come at a time of the year when an opposite tendency would not seem unnatural, while conditions are more stable now and the outlook is more promising than has been the case for a long period. Competition for orders is keen and there continues to be complaint of small profit margins in some important lines, as in steel and textiles, yet the main trend of prices in other commodities than foodstuffs is still toward higher levels and there is no general disposition among buyers to defer commitments in the expectation of obtaining concessions.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.

The high priced motor and specialty stocks gave ground today, while the railroad stocks, under the leadership of St. Louis Southwestern, Katy, Pere Marquette and a number of the investment rails were forging ahead. The market was not very active and week-end profit taking in some sections of the list accounted for the reactionary price tone.

Heavy buying of St. Louis Southwestern and Katy common accompanied rumors of progress being made in the so-called southwestern merger of transportation lines. Southwestern at 62 showed a gain of 5 points in the first hour. Last week's closing price on this stock was 49. Katy common sold above 43, the highest price in its history and 3 points above the low of the week. Rock Island, which acquired control of the Cotton Belt lines, sold about 2 points higher in an active market. Colorado & Southern was 2 points higher. Northwestern rails were firm.

The week-end business reports were favorable, both as to past developments and the outlook for the immediate future. Expansion in proceeding favorably in the jobbing lines and manufacturers are preparing for an active fall season.

Renewed buying of United States Steel at a point or more above yesterday's best prices, created a good impression in that section of the market, and the independent steel stocks. Crucible and Gulf States, were inclined to follow its lead. The copper stocks also continued in demand as a further reflection of the very favorable outlook in the copper industry, with surplus stocks declining and prices for the red metal hardening. American Smelting and Anaconda sold fractionally higher.

White Motors and General Motors were pushed up during moderate rally in the motor stocks in the second hour, the latter being bought for the extra dividends recently declared. Industrial stocks lagged behind the market, as did the utility stocks, but mercantile stocks showed a slight improvement over the best previous price levels of the week.

General Railway Signal spurted 15 points to 310 near the close of the market; American Can returned to its high record price and United States Steel sold actively at 124¾, the best price for the movement. The railroad stocks reached slightly higher price levels and other stocks remained featureless.

A gain of about 1 point each in St. Louis Southwestern consolidated 4's and 5's and in Katy adjustment 5's was the feature of the listed bond market today. Strength in these bonds was in sympathy with the firm tone in the railroad stock market, and precipitated the rise in the stocks of these companies. Chesapeake & Ohio convertable 5's rose a point to 117½.

There were no important changes in prices of Liberty bonds and treasury issues. German government 7's sold above 97 for the first time on the movement and French government 7's were in demand above 91.

Dodge Brothers new 6's made further recovery to above 96 on a good volume of trading. Anaconda Copper 7's, sold at 102 and American Telephone and Telegraph 5's at 96½.

The stock market was firm at the opening today, with higher levels in the railroad and industrial stocks. American Can was up 3 points at 246½; Havana Electric up 2½ at 232; General Electric up 1¼ at 333; Sears Roebuck up ½ at 203; National Biscuit up ½ at 74.

St. Louis, Southwestern common opened at a point higher at 58; Frisco common up ⅜; Union Pacific down ¼.

Cast Iron Pipe was up ¾ at 179; United States Steel down ⅜ at 123½; Anaconda Copper up ¼ at 43; Pierce-Arrow preferred down ½ to 83.

Stock sales today 671,800 shares; bonds $5,335,000.

Stock sales for the week totaled 8,771,100 shares; bonds $57,508,000.

Asks For Report On Teachers Not Legally Qualified

Superintendents of schools in all counties of Nebraska are being asked by State Superintendent Matzen to check up on the certification of teachers and report to him any instances where boards of education, in either city, village or rural districts, have employed teachers that are not legally qualified. This has been made easier by the new state law which requires every teacher to register his or her certificate with the county superintendent, and forbids school boards to hire teachers who are not so registered.

All certificates are now issued by the state superintendent's office, but the registration requirement enables the county superintendent to know whether or not a teacher is properly certified. Each school board must report to the county superintendent the name of the teacher when the contract is signed for his or her services. It is made the county official's duty to inform the board if the teacher is not certified. In that event the contract and certificate both become invalid, and members of the board are held personally liable for any district funds paid to the unqualified teacher.

At the same time, Supt. Matzen points out in his circular letter to county superintendents, the district loses its share of state school apportionments by having an uncertified teacher, and no credit can be given the school or its pupils for work done during the period of her employment.

A year ago, it was found that 106 teachers who did not have certificates were employes in Nebraska at the opening of the fall terms.

City Briefs

To Hold Hearing—Whether the Union Pacific railroad or the city of Fullerton should repair a washout on one of the main streets, where it crosses the railroad tracks, will be the subject of a hearing by State Railway Commissioner Randall at Fullerton next Friday. The crossing has been virtually impassable since the early part of July, when a heavy rainstorm swept away the approach. The city filed complaint asking that an order be issued to have the thoroughfare put into usable condition again by the railroad company.

LINCOLN MEN ENJOY RODEO

Delegation of Fifty-two Enthusiastic Over Frontier Show.

Attendance Was 25,000; Governor McMullen Makes 6 Addresses.

Returning about 6 o'clock Saturday morning from Burwell where he and fifty-one other Lincoln business men spent Friday afternoon attending a county fair and rodeo, Secretary Whitten of the chamber of commerce said:

"Burwell certainly is a wonderful town. I never saw such hospitality as was displayed by the people there Friday. This, coupled with the accommodations the little city has provided for the crowds which gather there annually was astonishing to every member of the Lincoln party."

There were at least 25,000 people at the exhibition Friday afternoon, according to Mr. Whitten, who said that by the time the Lincoln train reached Burwell the fifty-two from here had swelled to at least 400.

The train was met at Greeley by County Attorney Lafferty and a cow girl quartet composed of Mr. Lafferty's daughter, a Miss Gavin, Miss Langstrom and Mrs. Feltz, who returned to Burwell with the delegation, singing enroute. Just outside Burwell the train was met by another delegation and by a fleet of airplanes and escorted to the fair grounds.

Governor's Talk Popular.

Governor McMullen joined the party at Central City and was one of the busiest men in the group following its arrival on the grounds. The chief executive made six addresses.

The exhibits at the fair were among the best Mr. Whitten had ever seen, he stated, and particularly was this true of the agricultural implements, horses, cattle, hogs and sheep, and the horticultural display.

"Had I not seen it for myself, it would have been almost impossible for me to believe that a country located on the edge of the sandhills could produce the products seen there Friday afternoon.

The combined show is rated as either second or third in the country for a county exposition, according to Mr. Whitten.

The chamber of commerce at Burwell is known as the Wranglers, indicative of the cow country, Whitten said.

Because of the large number on the train from other towns the schedule was changed at Burwell and the special did not leave there until 9:30 Friday night, and the Lincoln delegation did not reach home until 6 o'clock Saturday morning.

RAILWAYS LOSING ON SHORT HAULS

Exhibit By State Commission Shows This Traffic Going by Automobile.

A marked decline in less than carload freight revenue and in receipts from the sale of passenger tickets on the Union Pacific railroad to and from points between Columbus and Millard, inclusive, is shown to have taken place since 1920, in a tabulation prepared and given out at the office of the state railway commission.

There is no showing as to the volume of carload freight business to and from these stations, or how much money was taken in from the sale of passenger tickets to points outside Nebraska. General railroad statistics for the whole of the United States during the past few weeks have shown the greatest total number of car loadings in their history. The Union Pacific is one of the roads which have been favored with a heavy tonnage of carload freight.

The purpose of the railway commission's exhibit is to show that local short haul traffic, both passenger and freight, has been largely diverted in recent years to automobile trucks and busses. A campaign is being conducted by the railroads throughout the country to restrict the operations of these competitive carriers.

The tonnage of carload freight handled in both directions at the Union Pacific stations referred to, during the last five years, is summarized as follows:

Year	Tons Shipped	Tons Received
1920	10,116½	12,635½
1921	6,298	9,365
1922	4,484½	8,154
1923	2,492	8,405½
1924	2,225½	7,240½

Passenger receipts on tickets sold to points within Nebraska dwindled as follows:

In 1920, $385,989; 1921, $271,140; 1922, $239,367; 1923, $229,718; 1924, $196,881.

Weather Delays Two Swimmers Of The Channel

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—George Puilley, former French national swimming champion, and Ishak Helmy, the Giant Egyptian, have been compelled to postpone their attempt to swim the English channel, which was to have begun tonight because of high winds and heavy seas.

Miss Gertrude Ederle of America, Miss Lillian Harrison of Argentina, and Mlle. Jane Sioj of France, all of whom have failed in gallant previous attempts to swim the channel, will make another attempt together on August 31 or September 1, weather conditions permitting, it was decided today.

Coolidges Back At White Court

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—Returning to his desk in his study at White Court today after an eight day absence, President Coolidge found a mass of routine business waiting his consideration and a list of engagements that was a reminder of busy days at the white house.

Those who had appointments with the president included Postmaster General New, who desired to discuss departmental matters with him. Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, who is visiting at Beverly Farms, near here, Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, and State Senator Whitney, republican gubernatorial nominee in New Jersey.

coroner's jury to be convened today holds him responsible for the death. Lassetter was an employe of the state highway department.

"I regret more than anything this terrible occurrence, and am grief stricken over it," Magee told newspaper men after the fight. He received several bruises about the face and body, and Leahy's upper left arm was shattered by the second bullet.

A Colorful Career.

The fight and shooting closed another chapter in the high tension career of Magee. In July, 1923, he was convicted of libel by a jury in Judge Leahy's court in connection with the publication of editorial attacks on Chief Justice J. W. Parker of the New Mexico Supreme court. Sentenced to prison by Leahy, he was pardoned by the Gov. James F. Hinkle before being taken to the penitentiary.

A year later he was haled into court by Leahy for editorially criticising the court while other charges in connection with the libel case were pending. This time it was a contempt case. Leahy held him in contempt and sentenced him to three months imprisonment. In pronouncing sentence, Judge Leahy branded Magee as a miscreant in the strongest of judicial terms. He served one day and one night in jail and Governor Hinkle pardoned him again. While imprisoned he is said to have smuggled "copy" to his newspaper, continuing the attacks on Leahy.

Aids in Oil Probe.

Magee is credited with having aided in starting the investigation leading to the discovery of the little "black satchel" of Teapot Dome fame. Early in January, 1924, he was a witness before the senate oil committee and told the investigators of rumors he had heard "about $100,000 in a suitcase running around in New Mexico."

The committee later developed evidence that the $100,000 was from E. L. Doheny and was sent to Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior and negotiator of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills naval oil leases to Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair.

Magee bought the Albuquerque Morning Journal from Fall in 1920 and in 1924 gave evidence to the oil committee regarding Fall's financial condition. He declared he had been approached with "Doheny money" when he had offered to sell the journal.

Judge Not Re-Elected.

The contempt case was the last flare-up of consequence between Magee and Leahy until last night, but last fall he waged a sizzling campaign against the jurist, who lost his fight for re-election to the bench.

In five years of activity in the political arena of New Mexico, Magee has been republican, democrat and independent. He deserted the republicans in 1920, declaring the organization to be corrupt. In 1921 he turned back to the republicans and ran against a close personal friend for office, but 1922 found him again on the democratic side. Last fall he was a candidate in the primaries for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

Magee Former Iowan.

WATERLOO, Ia., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque, N. M., editor, who shot a bystander to death during a fight in an East Las Vegas hotel last night, was formerly a resident of Cedar Falls, near here and at one time his father was pastor of the Cedar Falls Methodist church.

Magee attended the public schools of Cedar Falls and later the Iowa State Teachers college there.

It was reported in Cedar Falls that he at one time studied for the ministry but did not complete this training. A brother, John, is now an ordained minister in the Methodist Episcopal church.

left at the summer home of John Newman, a resident of Berkeley, Cal. The bandits had held Newman and several others prisoner in the Newman home for nearly an entire day while hundreds of peace officers searched for them.

In this statement Murray admitted firing the shot that killed one of the guards and Willos and Jones were declared to have shot the second guard. In it also, the bandit trio declared they would never be captured alive.

Slayer To Be Brought To Pen

Warden Fenton received a wire Saturday morning from Lincoln county authorities asking whether there was room for Frank Allen, who was sentenced to life imprisonment Friday afternoon at Rushville for murder of William Heckel, bachelor rancher who lived 8 miles north of Merriman. The warden wired a reply directing the prisoner be brought here. He expects Allen will be brought to the prison sometime Saturday night.

RE-ORGANIZATION PLAN PROPOSED

Senator Wadsworth Urges Sweeping Changes In Executive Department.

Sees Simplification Of Government Work and Saving To Taxpayers.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tax reduction and reorganization of the executive department were proposed to President Coolidge today by Senator Wadsworth, republican of New York, as two of the major problems to be pressed at the next congress by the administration.

Senator Wadsworth predicted that a tax bill providing reductions in both the surtax and normal income rates would be passed before March 15, when first payments of the new year are due. He advocated that the administration then put through its plan of re-organization which provides for a new department of education and relief.

Although some opposition has been voiced to provisions of the re-organization bill he was confident it could be passed in much the same form as proposed to the last congress. The chief benefit of such a bill would be the simplification of the government work and elimination of duplication, thus saving, in his opinion, money to the taxpayers directly and indirectly.

The president received a favorable report today on business conditions from Postmaster General New, who called to take up departmental problems with him. Though the department's deficit for the last fiscal year of $37,000,000 was almost double that of the previous year, Mr. New reported that receipts had increased in practically every city. He attributed the deficit to the increase in posal salaries, which went into effect on January 1. Increased postal rates, he pointed out, did not become effective until April 15.

He declared he would not take a hand in the congressional investigation now under way of increased postal rates and would make no proposals to congress on rates unless requested. He did not discuss the rate question with the president.

Lost His Dough, But Evened Up With Zbyszko

Strangler Lewis defeated Vladek Zbyszko, after considerable wrestling, in a Boston ring. In a rather mauled condition, Zbyszko went to his dressing room. As he arrived there, loud cheering broke forth in the arena. Some local pride was being introduced and the crowd gave him an ovation. But Zbyszko didn't know that—and was curious.

"What are they cheering about?" he asked.

"I'll find out," said one of his friends, poking his head out of the door. That particular friend had bet rather heavily on Zbyszke and was rather disgusted with the outcome. He listened for a minute or two, and then, without a trace of a smile, said to Zbyszko:

"I guess it's because George Touhey, the referee, has just announced that you are dead."

About People

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Frisbie of Washington, D. C., formerly of Lincoln, are spending a few days here, enroute back from a western trip. Mr. Frisbie was for some time the state chemist of Nebraska, but for the last 8 or 9 years he has been in the employ of the federal government. He has been traveling through the west conferring with state officials relative to establishing uniform standards of purity in food products, and uniform regulations to govern their manufacture and sale. He spent a week at Denver, in attendance at the national convention of state officers having these matters in charge.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Pressure continues to fall throughout the western and central portions of the country with center of low pressure over Montana and North Dakota. Rising temperature and mostly clear weather have resulted in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys. High pressure and clear cool weather prevail this morning in the the eastern and southern states, but showers fell yesterday on the middle pacific coast.

Hi Board Cracks Down on August Grid Practice

SCHOOLS ACCUSED OF 'JUMPING GUN'

Report Reaches State Board That Football Practice Rule Violated.

Chairman Gives Notice That Board Will Proceed To Punish the Guilty.

FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. [illegible]—High school football coaches or athletic directors in Nebraska who have been beating the gun by staging pre[illegible] gridiron practice thereby violating an explicit rule adopted by the state high school board of athletic control may as well prepare to take their punishment.

A. M. Nelson, superintendent of the Fairbury schools and chairman of the state control board, returned home today from a vacation trip and announced that his attention [illegible] had already [illegible] football [illegible] Chairman Nelson was [illegible] started [illegible] in August whereas the board's rule prohibits gridiron workouts prior to the first day of school.

Board to Investigate

The board will investigate these reports of premature practice and take action, Superintendent Nelson said today. Every high school man and coach in the state should know the rule as notice of its adoption by the board was sent to all Nebraska high schools holding membership in the state association.

By way of protecting the situation the board will proceed at once to issue instructions to the high school men of the state citing the attention to the rule which the board intends to enforce to the last letter.

The board will not make snap judgment of course but if the rule has been violated punishment in some form or other will be visited on the guilty. The high school men of Nebraska and the board of control meant business when the rule was adopted and we positively will not tolerate pre season practice.

HERE AND THERE IN BASEBALL

All Star Western Lineups

Sec Taylor's first and second Western league all-star teams for the season of 1925 will come out of the publicity hopper in The Sunday Star Aug. 23. The Des Moines writer's selections were made by ballot with the eight team managers in the league doing the voting.

The Star is not spilling a secret in announcing that the Lincoln Links landed three players on the two teams. Chief interest of Lincoln fans will center on whether the local players were selected for the first or the second team.

As stated the all star selections will be published with an accompanying article and discussion by Sec Taylor in The Sunday Star.

Sets Pace With Two Baggers

Elmer Williams of Dallas broke the Texas league record for two baggers August 14 when he pounded out his fifty fourth of the season.

It pays to [illegible] Marvin Goodwin, manager and pitcher for Houston in the Texas league, has won [illegible] and lost four games this season. This was enough for the Cincinnati Reds to put in a bid for his services despite his 3[illegible] years. It isn't the first time that Goodwin has been in the majors.

Rogers Hornsby departed for the eastern invasion with 33 home runs to his credit. This is a little under one home run per three and a half games. At this rate he has a chance to better his record of 42 made in 1922 when he hung up a National league record.

Wee Dick Kerr of the Chicago White Sox staged a comeback with a bang, appearing in two consecutive games as a relief hurler.

Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league lost seventeen straight games before it rose to the occasion and defeated Los Angeles.

The National league showed the most consistent hitting streak of the season last week. Boston and Cincinnati topped all in batting with [illegible] hits each. The lowest was Pittsburgh with 5[illegible] safe blows. St Louis had 6[illegible] while Brooklyn rounded out 4[illegible], New York 7[illegible], Chicago [illegible] and Philadelphia 6[illegible].

The New York Yankees probably came pretty close to the record last week when they were able to ring up only eight runs in five games. Washington [illegible] the other way when the champions pounded in [illegible] runs with 1[illegible] for its opponents in seven [illegible].

Fred Fitzsimmons, formerly of the Indianapolis team in the American association, made good with a vengeance when he pitched his first full game for the Giants, beating Boston.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, celebrated his sixty sixth birthday last week. He is passing most of his time in the woods of northern Wisconsin trying to regain his health. Although he has the best team he has had in years, he has not seen the Sox play this year.

SHANER SHOWING OFF IN WESTERN

Links' Husky Outfielder Is Setting Dizzy Pace In All Departments.

Jumps Up With Leaders In Batting; Steals 7 Bases In Single Week.

Shaner of Lincoln was one of the disturbing factors in the Western league the last week. The speedy outfielder got busy in most every department of the game. Among other things he set the pace on the paths by pilfering seven bases which was one per game he appeared in just seven. Shaner's spurt brought him up next to Morehart of Wichita who by stealing two kept ahead by one.

In addition to showing speed on the bases Shaner pounded out two doubles, two triples and rang up his 100th run of the season. Shaner leads the league in three base hits with 13 triples to his credit.

Bliss Still Top Man

The gains and losses by the leading batters in the league were about even for the week. Bliss of St Joseph remained at the top but with a reduced percentage. Payne of Wichita lost about as much and stuck to second. Knight of Denver gained. Osborn of Omaha remained where he was and O'Brien by gaining a point tied with Osborn, as did Shaner by tacking on seven points to his batting average.

Wetzel of Des Moines and Simon of Tulsa were losers and so was Riggert also of Tulsa.

Homers Getting Scarce

Apparently the leading home run hitters have quit performing for the multitudes. Payne and his team mate Wano are still tied for the lead with [illegible], neither one being able to add to his total. Wetzel of Des Moines was the only one to give the fans a run for their money. He walloped two four base drives which brought his total to 21 and put him in a tie with McNally of Oklahoma City.

McNally broke the tie in two baggers separating himself from Osborn and the former has now an undisputed lead in doubles — two more than the Omaha slugger.

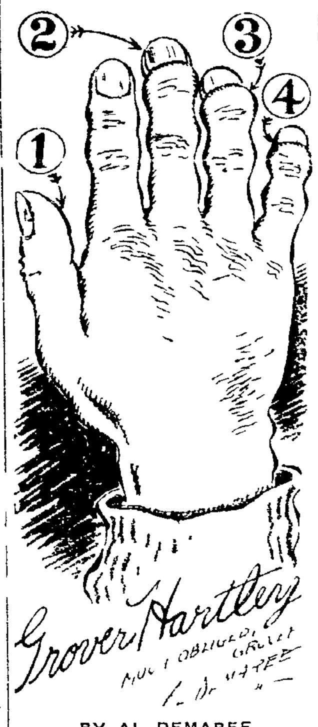
Wichita First in Batting

Among the teams four advanced in hitting and an equal number receded. Des Moines by losing one point was jolted out of first place by Wichita which gained one. Denver and Omaha changed places, the former gaining three points [illegible] and St Joseph lost while Oklahoma City and Lincoln advanced.

St Joseph was shaded a point in fielding but stuck to the top. The Links in last place a month ago have climbed to a tie with Oklahoma City for third place, each with a team fielding mark of 95[illegible].

Brown of Oklahoma City and Oldham of Des Moines continue to lead the pitchers so far as the percentages are concerned but Penner of Wichita is the league's most consistent winner. Ted Pillette and Perry Wilson have the best pitching records for the Links.

Hartley Has Historic Old Baseball Hand



BY AL DEMAREE

Catcher Grover Hartley of the New York Giants possesses one of the most fascinating sets of gnarled and twisted fingers of any catcher in the majors. Shaking hands with Grover is just like sticking your hand in a bag of peanuts. The bruised and mauled talons of his right hand bring back memories of the romantic past of the old game, some of the hurlers who were pitching to him when he received his injuries having been called out by the Great Umpire.

(1) Thumb broken by foul tip in New York 191[illegible] by Manager John J. McGraw pitching in batting practice.

(2) Nail ripped off and finger broken by foul tip from spit ball in New York 1911. Bugs Raymond pitching.

(3) Nail ripped off and first joint of finger broken in St Louis while catching for Browns in 1917. Carl Weilman pitching. Nail on same finger knocked off in 1913 catching for Giants, Christy Mathewson pitching.

(4) Nail knocked off by Joe Willis in 1910. First joint broken by foul tip while catching for St Louis Browns in 1916, Dave Davenport pitching. Nail again ripped off and finger jammed while with Browns in 191[illegible], Eddie Plank pitching.

First finger miraculously escaped all injury.

CONNIE'S OUTFIT DROPS 5 IN ROW

Persistent Defeat Points To Collapse of Mackmen As Pennant Contenders.

New York Fans Lined Up To Pack Polo Grounds For Pirate Series.

NEW YORK, Aug. [illegible]—(AP)—Beaten in five successive games the Philadelphia Athletics today were on the verge of a total collapse such as wrecked early season hopes for Connie Mack in previous years.

Defeat of the youthful Quaker City combination yesterday by the Chicago White Sox 8 to 2 bore unmistakable signs of cracking on the part of Mack's entry. Pitchers were wild and ineffective against Collins' club and the team hitting continued weak, while the defense was unsteady at crucial periods. Sheely was the big gun in the Sox attack with three singles and a double.

The tumble of Philadelphia, however, lost the club no further ground in the American league race. Washington, one game in the lead, likewise went down to defeat at the hands of Detroit as Coveleskie lost an eleven inning pitching duel to Whitehill of the Tigers 1 to 0.

The reverse carried a double blow for the Senators who also lost their veteran first baseman Joe Judge. Concussion of the brain resulting from a blow on the head from a pitched ball put Judge in a hospital.

Crowd Waiting at Gate

NEW YORK, Aug. [illegible]—With a world's series atmosphere prevailing, the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates will meet in a doubleheader this afternoon at the Polo Grounds by way of an inaugural to a five game series that will determine the temporary and perhaps permanent leadership of the National league race. Not less than 150,000 persons were expected to view the series which will be concluded with another double header Sunday and a single game Monday. The weather today bid fair to be ideal.

The Polo Grounds gates were thrown open at 11:4[illegible] o'clock this morning and several hundred fans were waiting in line an hour before the scheduled opening of the portals.

Yde and Aldridge were understood to be Bill McKechnie's advance selections for pitching today's game. McGraw was expected to counter with Greenfield and Scott.

The Pirates held a tactical pre-series advantage of a three game lead as the series opened. This will make it necessary for the Giants to win four straight games in order to regain the lead and to take the fifth game in order to hold it.

Benny Tuning Up To Fight Walker

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—(I. N. S.)—Boxing fans today hailed Benny Leonard's announced return to the ring as the forerunner of a bout with Mickey Walker in 1926. Leonard it was said, is to meet Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, in a championship bout at Ebbets Field next month by a way of tryout for the proposed meeting with Walker.

The former lightweight champion who retired about a year ago at the behest of his mother is said to have been in training for the past two months. He will be an odds on favorite over Goodrich who recently won the New York commission tournament to determine a successor to the lightweight title vacated by Leonard.

The latter therefore will be considered the challenger when he meets Goodrich.

CITY AMATEURS ON SUNDAY BILL

Three Games In Local Title Tournament Booked For Landis Field.

The Lincoln amateur baseball championship tournament will start off with a bang Sunday when six of the ten teams enrolled for the tournament will meet in a triple header at Landis Field.

The three cornered bill has brought forth a program which promises to produce three fast games and President Howard Jarrett of the Lincoln Amateur association announced today that arrangements are being made to handle a big crowd at Landis Field for the opening series.

First Game at Noon

The opening game billed to get under way at noon will bring together the Gaddis Construction Co team and the Lincoln Ramblers. Both have been traveling at a fast clip this season and appear on paper to be about evenly matched.

The second contest booked to start at 2 p. m. pits the Varsity Cleaners against the City Hall Wildcats. The Cleaners will probably enter the tournament a slight favorite although the City Hall outfit is conceding nothing to the Cleaners in the Sunday encounter.

Boilermakers vs Woodmen

The Sunday bill will close with the Havelock Boilermaker-Modern Woodmen game. The Boilermakers are always a strong aggregation while the Woodmen will be represented by one of the best teams in the history of the Lincoln organization.

President Jarrett announced today the appointment of [illegible] McBride of The Star's sports staff as official scorer for the tournament.

CLARKE GANG ON SCORING SPREE

Links Swing Hickory Bats For 21 Hits: Trounce Oilers, 14-4.

Victory Clinched in Eighth Inning With Cluster Of Six Runs.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. [illegible]—[illegible] to the [illegible] and style of pastiming which had [illegible] the Oilers in four straight games during the recent series in Lincoln, Clarke's Links flattened the Tulsa Oilers Friday afternoon 14 to 4.

The Links jumped on three Tulsa pitchers for a total of 21 hits, Haley setting the attack pace with four knocks while Purdy and Krueger each came through with three safe blows.

Ted Pillette propelled the Spalding pellet for the Clarke tribe, doling out seven hits and blanking the Oilers in every inning with the single exception of the fourth when the home athletes clustered their four runs.

Six Markers in Eighth

The Links, although making [illegible] to 4, clinched their triumph in the eighth frame when six Lincoln runners circled the bases and rounded up at the registration station. Pillette inaugurated the rampage with a single and the Links batted all the way around, Pillette getting his second safe thump. Purdy's double, Krueger's single, four free passes and five stolen sacks were sandwiched between Pillette's pair of biffs and by that time the Oilers were flat on their backs for the count of ten.

Pillette had the assistance of snappy fielding in the pinches, Cottrell performing in spectacular style at the third corner by executing eight assists.

Links Tackle Indians

The Lincoln aggregation headed out of Tulsa Friday night enroute to Oklahoma City where the Links will tackle Jack Holland's pennant contending Indians. Al Tullis, according to Manager Clarke, will be on the pitching mound for the Links in the opening encounter of the series. Tullis [illegible]

CROWN AT STAKE IN COAST FIGHT

Genaro and Labarba Clash Tonight For Title Once Held By Villa.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. [illegible]—(A. P.)—California's first world's championship fight since 1914 takes place at the Ascot open air arena here tonight when Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, meets Fidel Labarba, former Olympic titleholder, in a ten round decision bout for the flyweight crown vacated recently by the death of Pancho Villa, Filipino.

The state's last titular affair was held June 9, 1914, at the Tom McCarey arena in Vernon. There Kid Williams of Baltimore wrested the world's bantamweight championship from Johnny Coulon of Chicago in the third round.

Betting Favors Genaro

Watrous Leads Golf Field In Western Open

YOUNGSTOWN Country Club, Ohio, Aug. [illegible]—(I. N. S.)—Sixty four players in the western open golf championship continued on their final thirty six holes of play for the title today.

In the van with a score of 140 and a one stroke lead was Al Watrous, Grand Rapids professional, known in the ranks as a money golfer after the style of King Walter Hagen. Watrous is a driving player who now that he is out in front will be hard to beat.

Only one stroke behind him and determined to capture a major American title was that come back wonder golfer MacDonald Smith. Also with a total of 141 for the first thirty six holes to play were William Klein, youthful New York professional, conceded to have a chance in any field, and Densmore Shute, 20 year old amateur son of a professional.

Then separated by single strokes were bunched some of the greatest golfers in the world, all within striking distance of the title.

There were Johnnie Farrell, New York; Emmet French, Youngstown; Larry Nabholtz, Cleveland, who led at the end of the first 18 holes; Leo Diegel, Canadian open champion; Harry Hampton; Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen.

Not far down the list with 148 stood Al Espinosa of the Illinois golf club of Chicago and Bill Melhorn of West Moreland, [illegible] defending champion with 14[illegible].

G. SISLER SLATED TO QUIT BROWNS

Present Season Is His Last As Manager of Mound City Ball Club.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—(I. N. S.)—Word has gone around the baseball grapevine circuit that George Sisler will not return to the St Louis Browns as manager next year. This probably is something more than a rumor.

To begin with Sisler's contract expires at the end of this season. This document which called for a term of three years was drawn before Sisler had trouble with his eyes and while Lee Fohl was still head of the club.

Originally the terms were $12,000 a year but a bonus may have been added when George was made manager.

Sisler Not Satisfied

In addition to the expiration of his contract it is a known fact that Sisler is none too well satisfied. It is openly hinted out in the Mound City that the relationship between George and Owner Phil Ball is decidedly strained.

Moreover the club has played only mediocre ball under Sisler's leadership although in fairness to him it must be added that it is capable of nothing better.

Hi Board Cracks Down on August Grid Practice

SCHOOLS ACCUSED OF 'JUMPING GUN'

Report Reaches State Board That Football Practice Rule Violated.

Chairman Gives Notice That Board Will Proceed To Punish the Guilty.

FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. 22.—High school football coaches or athletic directors in Nebraska who have been "beating the gun" by staging pre-season gridiron practice, thereby violating an explicit rule adopted by the state high school board of athletic control, may as well prepare to take their punishment.

A. M. Nelson, superintendent of the Fairbury schools and chairman of the state control board, returned home today from a vacation trip and announced that his attention had been cited to claims and rumors that certain high school coaches had already inaugurated football practice. Alliance, Scottsbluff, Bayard and Harvard were reported to Chairman Nelson as having started practice in August, whereas the board's rule prohibits gridiron workouts prior to the first day of school.

Board to Investigate.

"The board will investigate these reports of premature practice and take action," Superintendent Nelson said today. "Every high school man and coach in the state should know the rule, as notice of its adoption by the board was sent to all Nebraska high schools holding membership in the state association.

"By way of protecting the situation, the board will proceed at once to issue instructions to the high school men of the state, citing their attention to the rule, which the board intends to enforce to the last letter.

"The board will not take snap judgment, of course, but if the rule has been violated, punishment in some form or other will be visited on the guilty. The high school men of Nebraska and the board of control meant business when the rule was adopted and we positively will not tolerate pre-season practice."

Kiwanis Golfers Trim Rotarians By Wide Margin

Kiwanis club golfers took a strong hold on the inter-club championship Friday afternoon when the Kiwanians trounced Rotary over the Eastridge course, 48 to 17. The Kiwanis team previously defeated the Lions club 41 to 30. Lions and Rotary teams will meet Monday afternoon.

A. H. Robertson and H. V. Brown, Kiwanis, turned in the low cards for the Friday play, each shooting an 87. Results:

C. F. McCain (97) and R. S. Johnson (104), Rotary, and Frank De Brown (104) and George Westphal (96), Kiawanis, were all even.

F. B. Sidles (97) and Fred Cornell (112), Rotary, won from George W. Woods (101) and H. C. Young (109), Kiwanis, 7 up.

A. H. Robertson (87) and J. H. Johnson (93), Kiwanis, won from Walter Aitken (90) and O. J. Shaw (109), Rotary, 13 up.

L. W. Chase (95) and C. C. Carlsen (101), Kiwanis, won from A. S. Dougall (104) and R. S. Aldrich (110), Rotary, 15 up.

Scottsbluff Wins.

SCOTSBLUFF, Neb., Aug. 22.—Scottsbluff defeated Gerin in paseball here Thursday, 9 to 3. The game was a play-off of the North Platte Valley League game declared no-contest some time ago.

Republic Team Wins.

REPUBLIC, Kas., Aug. 22.—Republic defeated Deshler, Neb., in a twelve-inning State Line league game at Deshler last Sunday, 2 to 1. The victory placed Republic in first position in the league race.

Touching the Bases.

The Senators not only lost the ball game to the Tigers, 1 to 0, in 11 innings, but Joe Judge as well. He was hit on the head by Whitehill in the second inning and is in a Detroit hospital suffering from a possible fracture of the skull.

Losing the fifth in a row, the Athletics finished second to the White Sox, 8 to 2, when the latter gave Rommel, Baumigartner and Groves a thorough shellacking.

With Judge Landis an interested spectator, the Browns beat the Red Sox, 9 to 7, Rice's second homer in as many days being a contributing factor.

The Yanks scored on Buckneye in the opening inning and then called it a day, Jamieson scoring the tying run for the Indians in the seventh and the winning run in the ninth on singles by Summa. Score, 2 to 1.

HERE AND THERE IN BASEBALL

All-Star Western Lineups.

"Sec" Taylor's first and second all-star Western league lineups for the season of 1925 will come out of the publicity hopper in The Sunday Star, Aug. 23. The Des Moines writer's selections were made by ballot, with the eight team managers in the league doing the voting.

The Star is not spilling a secret in announcing that the Lincoln Links landed three players on the two teams. Chief interest of Lincoln fans will center on whether the local players were selected for the first or the second team.

As stated, the all-star selections will be published, with an accompanying article an ddiscussion by "Sec" Taylor, in The Sunday Star.

Sets Pace With Two-Baggers.

"Rhino" Williams of Dallas broke the Texas league record for two-baggers August 14 when he pounded out his fifty-fourth of the season.

It pays to keep fit. Marvin Goodwin, manager and pitcher for Houston in the Texas league, has won 21 and lost four games this season. This was enough for the Cincinnati Reds to put in a bid for his services, despite his 32 years. It isn't the first time that Goodwin has been in the majors.

Rogers Hornsby departed for the eastern invasion with 33 home runs to his credit. This is a little under one home run per three and a half games. At this rate he has a chance to better his record of 42, made in 1922, when he hung up a National league record.

"Wee Dicky" Kerr of the Chicago White Sox staged a comeback with a bang, appearing in two consecutive games as a relief hurler.

Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league lost seventeen straight games before it rose to the occasion and defeated Los Angeles.

The National league showed the most consistent hitting streak of the season last week. Boston and Cincinnati topped all in batting with 77 hits each. The lowest was Pittsburgh with 57 safe blows. St. Louis had 76, while Brooklyn pounded out 74, New York 71, Chicago 70 and Philadelphia 62.

The New York Yankees probably came pretty close to the record last week when they were able to ring up only eight runs in five games. Washington figured the other way when the champions pounded in 70 runs, with 17 for its opponents in seven tilts.

Fred Fitzsimmons, formerly of the Indianapolis team in the American association, made good with a vengeance when he pitched his first full game for the Giants, beating Boston.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday last week. He is passing most of his time in the woods of northern Wisconsin, trying to regain his health. Although he has the best team he has had in years, he has not seen the Sox play this year.

CROWN AT STAKE IN COAST FIGHT

Genaro and Labarba Clash Tonight For Title Once Held By Villa.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22—(A. P.)—California's first world's championship fight since 1914, takes place at the Ascot open air arena here tonight when Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, meets Fidel Labarba, former Olympic titleholder, in a ten-round decision bout for the flyweight crown, vacated recently by the death of Pancho Villa, Filipino.

The state's last titular affair was held June 9, 1914, at the Tom McCarey arena in Vernon. There Kid Williams of Baltimore wrested the world's bantamweight championship from Johnny Coulon of Chicago in the third round.

Betting Favors Genaro.

Betting favors the little New Yorker, who twice defeated Pancho Villa. Odds of two to one show that the dopesters believe Genaro's four years of professional experience will offset the edge in ruggidness conceded to Labara, who made his debut in professional ranks less than a year ago.

Never in his career has Labarba been knocked out or smashed to the floor of distress by an opponnet and in only two of ten professional fights has he failed to have his hand raised. These were with Jimmy McLarnin, the "Belfast spider."

Genaro has a brilliant professional record, which opened in 1921, when he relinquished his hold on the Olympic flyweight title he won in 1920 to enter the professional ranks. He has beaten all types of fighters, clever ones, ring tigers, hard punchers and clowns.

Landis Delves Into Southern Scandal

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—The basis in fact for the breath of scandal that has startled the Southern association is the objective of an investigation today by Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball.

John D. Martin, president of the Southern association, who investigated reports printed in the Nashville, Tenn., Banner that certain Nashville players were asked to "stall" to assist the New Orleans club in its pennant fight, is bringing his findings to the inquiry.

Fred Echrodt, former Nashville outfielder, described by Mr. Martin as "a very material witness" has denied that he was approached and the Cleveland Indians' management, to whom he was returned a week ago, has insisted that an injured shoulder necessitated sending him to Rochester, N. Y., for treatment.

SHANER SHOWING OFF IN WESTERN

Links' Husky Outfielder Is Setting Dizzy Pace In All Departments.

Jumps Up With Leaders In Batting; Steals 7 Bases In Single Week.

Shaner of Lincoln was one of the disturbing factors in the Western league race last week. The speedy outfielder got busy in most every department of the game. Among other things, he set the pace on the paths by pilfering seven bases, which was one per game, as he appeared in just seven. Shaner's spurt brought him up next to Morehart of Wichita who, by stealing two, kept ahead by one.

In addition to showing speed on the bases, Shaner pounded out two doubles, two triples and rang up his 100th run of the season. Shaner leads the league in three-base hits, with 23 triples to his credit.

Bliss Still Top Man.

The gains and losses by the leading batters in the league were about even for the week. Bliss of St. Joseph remained at the top, but with a reduced percentage. Payne of Wichita lost about as much and stuck to second. Knight of Denver gained, Osborn of Omaha remained where he was and O'Brien, by gaining a point, tied with Osborn, as did Shaner, by tacking on seven points to his batting average. Wetzel of Des Moines and Simon of Tulsa were losers and so was Riggert, also of Tulsa.

Homers Getting Scarce.

Apparently the leading home run hitters have quit performing for the multitudes. Payne and his teammate, Wano, are still tied for the lead with 22, neither one being able to add to his total. Wetzel of Des Moines was the only one to give the fans a run for their money. He walloped two four-base drives, which brought his total to 21 and put him in a tie with McNally of Oklahoma City.

McNally broke the tie in two-baggers, separating himself from Osborn, and the former has now an undisputed lead in doubles — two more than the Omaha slugger.

Wichita First in Batting.

Among the teams, four advanced in hitting and an equal number receded. Des Moines, by losing one point, was jolted out of first place by Wichita, which gained one. Denver and Omaha changed places, the former gaining three points. Tulsa and St. Joseph lost, while Oklahoma City and Lincoln advanced.

St. Joseph was shaded a point in fielding, but stuck to the top. The Links in last place a month ago, have climbed to a tie with Oklahoma City for third place, each with a team fielding mark of .957.

Brown of Oklahoma City and Oldham of Des Moines continue to lead the pitchers, so far as the percentages are concerned, but Penner of Wichita is the league's most consistent winner. Ted Pillete and Lefty Wilson have the best pitching records for the Links.

Watrous Leads Golf Field In Western Open

YOUNGSTOWN Country Club, Ohio, Aug. 22.—(I. S. N.)—Sixty-four players in the western open golf championship continued on their final thirty-six holes of play for the title today.

In the van, with a score of 140 and a one stroke lead, was Al Watrosn, Grand Rapids professional, known in the ranks as a "money golfer" after the style of "King Walter" Hagen. Watrous is a driving player, who, now that he is out in front, will be hard to beat.

Only one stroke behind him and determined to capture a major American title was that "come back" wonder golfer, MacDonald Smith. Also with a total of 141 for the first thirty-six holes to play were William Klein, youthful New York professional, conceded to have a chance in any field, and Densmere Shute, 20-year-old amateur, son of a professional.

Then separated by single strokes were bunched some of the greatest golfers in the world, all within striking distance of the title.

There were Johnnie Farrell, New York; Emmet French, Youngstown; Larry Nabholtz, Cleveland, who led at the end of the first 18 holes; Leo Diegel, Canadian open champion; Harry Sampton, Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen.

Not far down the list, with 148 stood Al Espinso, of the Illinois golf club of Chicago, and "Wild Bill" Melhorn of West Moreland, the defending champion, with 149.

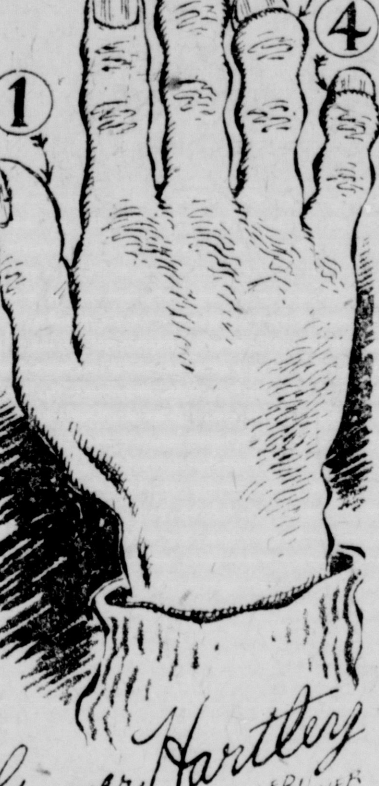
Hartley Has Historic Old Baseball Hand



BY AL DEMAREE.

Catcher Grover Hartley of the New York Giants possesses one of the most fascinating sets of gnarled and twisted fingers of any catcher in the majors. Shaking hands with Grover is just like sticking your hand in a bag of peanuts. The bruised and mauled talons of his right hand bring back memories of the romantic past of the old game, some of the hurlers who were pitching to him when he received his injuries having been called out by the Great Umpire.

(1) Thumb broken by foul tip in New York, 1912, by Manager John J. McGraw, pitching in batting practice.

(2) Nail ripped off and finger broken by foul tip from spit ball in New York, 1911. "Bugs" Raymond pitching.

(3) Nail ripped off and first joint of finger broken in St. Louis while catching for Browns in 1917, Carl Weilman pitching. Nail on same finger knocker off in 1913 catching for Giants, Christy Mathewson pitching.

(4) Nail knocked off by Joe Willis in 1910. First joint broken by foul tip while catching for St. Louis Browns in 1916, Dave Davenport pitching. Nail again ripped off and finger jammed while with Browns in 1917, Eddie Plank pitching.

First finger miraculously escaped all injury.

In the semi-finals of the second flight Leonard Stransky defeated Harry Northrup, 6 and 5, and Clarence Bell won from Kenneth Laird, 5 and 3.

Isbell Pitchers Easy For Demons

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 22.—Four Wichita pitchers were pounded for 17 hits yesterday and Des Moines walked off with a 12-9 victory in the odd combat of the series. Hufft, Wichita's new outfielder, malleted two home runs. Both teams fielded loosely. The score:

CONNIE'S OUTFIT DROPS 5 IN ROW

Persistent Defeat Points To Collapse of Mackmen As Pennant Contenders.

New York Fans Lined Up To Pack Polo Grounds For Pirate Series.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. — (AP) — Beaten in five successive games the Philadelphia Athletics today were on the verge of a total collapse such as wrecked early season hopes for Connie Mack in previous years.

Defeat of the youthful Quaker City combination yesterday by the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 2, bore unmistakable signs of cracking on the part of Mack's entry. Pitchers were wild and ineffective against Collins' club, and the team hitting continued weak, while the defense was unsteady at crucial periods. Sheeley was the big gun in the Sox attack with three singles and a double.

The tumble of Philadelphia, however, lost the club no further ground in the American league race. Washington, one game in the lead, likewise went down to defeat at the hands of Detroit, as Coveleskie lost an eleven-inning pitching duel to Whitehill of the Tigers, 1 to 0.

The reverse carried a double blow for the Senators, who also lost their veteran first-baseman, Joe Judge. Concussion of the brain, resulting from a blow on the head from a pitched ball, put Judge in a hospital.

Crowd Waiting at Gate.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. — With a world's series atmosphere pervading, the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates will meet in a doubleheader this afternoon at the Polo Grounds by way of an inaugural to a five-game series that will determine the temporary and perhaps permanent leadership of the National league race. Not less than 150,000 persons were expected to view the series, which will be concluded with another doubleheader Sunday and a single game Monday. The weather today bid fair to be ideal.

The Polo Grounds gates were thrown open at 11:45 o'clock this morning and several hundred fans were waiting in line an hour before the scheduled opening of the portals.

Yde and Aldridge were understood to be Bill McKechnie's advance selections for pitching today's game. McGraw was expected to counter with Greenfield and Scott.

The Pirates held a tactical preseries advantage of a three-game lead as the series opened. This will make it necessary for the Giants to win four straight games in order to regain the lead and to take the fifth game in order to hold it.

G. SISLER SLATED TO QUIT BROWNS

Present Season Is His Last As Manager of Mound City Ball Club.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(I. N. S.)—Word has gone around the baseball grapevine circuit that George Sisler will not return to the St. Louis Browns as manager next year. This probably is something more than a rumor.

To begin with, Sisler's contract expires at the end of this season. This document, which called for a term of three years, was drawn before Sisler had trouble with his eyes, and while Lee Fohl was still head of the club.

Originally, the terms were $12,000 a year, but a bonus may have been added when George was made manager.

Sisler Not Satisfied.

In addition to the expiration of his contract, it is a known fact that Sisler is none too well satisfied. It is openly hinted out in the Mound City that the relationship between George and Owner Phil Ball is decidedly strained.

Moreover, the club has played only mediocre ball under Sisler's leadership, although, in fairness to him, it must be added that it is capable of nothing better.

Trade Failed to Help.

The much discussed Shocker-Bush deal with the Yanks failed to do much for either team concerned. None of the three pitchers—Bush, Giard and Gaston—that went to the Browns has proved a consistent winner this season and it is doubtful if Bush and Gaston ever will again. Thus while the Browns, by far the most popular team in St. Louis in past years, have been floundering around the .500 mark, the Cards have taken a new lease on life under Hornsby and have gradually cut into the American league's popularity. Ball will probably be anxious to make some changes on that account. All in all, it would not be the least bit surprising to see Sisler relieved.

Eastridge Golf Tourney Starts

Qualifiers in the annual Eastridge club golf tournament will be busy today and Sunday traversing eighteen holes preparatory to the first round of match play.

Charley Koontz, Eastridge professional, announced that all qualifiers must turn in their scores by Sunday night. Five flights of sixteen players each probably will be arranged.

Joe Tucker won the 1924 championship and is expected to file a strong bid for the 1925 title.

Benny Tuning Up To Fight Walker

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(I. N. S.)—Boxing fans today hailed Benny Leonard's announced return to the ring as the forerunner of a bout with Mickey Walker in 1926. Leonard, it was said, is to meet Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo, in a championship bout at Ebbets Field next month by a way of tryout for the proposed meeting with Walker.

The former ligheweight champion, who retired about a year ago at the behest of his mother, is said to have been in training for the past two months. He will be an odds-on favorite over Goodrich, who recently won the New York commission tournament to determine a successor to the lightweight title, vacated Leonard.

The latter, therefore, will be considered the challenger when he meets Goodrich.

CITY AMATEURS ON SUNDAY BILL

Three Games In Local Title Tournament Booked For Landis Field.

The Lincoln amateur baseball championship tournament will start off with a bang Sunday when six of the ten teams enrolled for the tournament will meet in a tripleheader at Landis Field.

The three-cornered bill has brought forth a program which promises to produce three fast games and President Howard Barrett of the Lincoln Amateur association announced today that arrangements are being made to handle a big crowd at Landis Field for the opening series.

First Game at Noon.

The opening game, billed to get under way at noon, will bring together the Gaddis Construction Co. team and the Lincoln Ramblers. Both have been traveling at a fast clip this season and appear on paper to be about evenly matched.

The second contest, booked to start at 2 p. m., pits the Varsity Cleaners against the City Hall Wildcats. The Cleaners will probably enter the tournament a slight favorite, although the City Hall outfit is conceding nothing to the Cleaners in the Sunday encounter.

Boilermakers vs. Woodmen.

The Sunday bill will close with the Havelock Boilermaker-Modern Woodmen game. The Boilermakers are always a strong aggregation, while the Woodmen will be represented by one of the best teams in the history of the Lincoln organization.

President Barrett announced today the appointment of Gregg McBride of The Star's sports staff as official scorer for the tournament.

Bears Take Drop To Second Place

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 22.—Denver's return to leadership in the Western league flag chase lasted only one day, as the Bears were victims of a decisive drubbing yesterday, the Indians slugging their way to 19-3 victory. The Redskins pummeled the pellet for 21 hits, McDaniel setting the pace with five blows. McNally, Tate and McDaniel each circled the sacks four times. Lefty Hodges, although generally effective against the Indians, was knocked off the mound in the second inning. The score:

Milford Team Cops In Beaver Tourney

BEAVER CROSSING, Neb., Aug. 22.—Milford captured its third successive baseball championship in Beaver Crossing tournament annals by nosing ahead of Lushton, 1 to 0, in Friday's final game.

Anderson for Milford and Campbell for Lushton clashed in a thrilling pitching duel, Milford counting the only run of the game on a successful squeeze bunt. Both hurlers were in superb fettle, Anderson setting down fourteen Lushton batters on strikes, while Campbell fed the air to eleven.

The first game of Friday's double bill, in which Beaver Crossing was pitted against Crete, went eleven innings before Beaver Crossing could peel off the deciding run. The final count was 7 to 6.

Crete was in possession of a 6-2 advantage up to the ninth, but Beaver Crossing, after two were out and the count on the batter was two strikes, clustered four runs and tied the score, winning out in the eleventh.

CLARKE GANG ON SCORING SPREE

Links Swing Hickory Bats For 21 Hits; Trounce Oilers, 14-4.

Victory Clinched in Eighth Inning With Cluster Of Six Runs.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 22.—Reverting to the brand and style of pastiming which downed the Oilers in four straight games during the recent series in Lincoln, Josh Clarke's Links flattened the Lubricators Friday afternoon, 14 to 4.

The Links jumped onto three Tulsa pitchers for a total of 21 hits, Haley setting the attack pace with four knocks, while Purdy and Krueger each came through with three safe blows.

Ted Pillette propelled the Spalding pellet for the Clarke tribe, doling out seven hits and blanking the Oilers in every inning with the single exception of the fourth, when the home athletes clustered their four runs.

Six Markers in Eighth.

The Links, although making pace, 7 to 4, clinched their triumph in the eighth frame, when six Lincoln runners circled the bases and rounded up at the registration station. Pillette inaugurated the rampage with a single and the Links batted all the way around, Pillette getting his second safe thump. Purdy's double, Krueger's single, four free passes and five stolen sacks were sandwiched between Pillette's pair of biffs and by that time the Oilers were flat on their backs for the count of ten.

Pillette had the assistance of snappy fielding in the pinches, Gottleber performing in spectacular style at the third corner by executing eight assists.

Links Tackle Indians.

The Lincoln aggregation headed out of Tulsa Friday night, enroute to Oklahoma City, where the Links will tackle Jack Holland's pennant-contending Indians. Al Pallas, according to Manager Clark, will be on the pitching mound for the Links in the opening encounter of the series. Friday's score:

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Australia will compete with France in the final inter-zone Davis cup play to decide which nation will challenge the United States this year for international tennis honors. This was decided on the Longwood Cricket club's center court late Friday when Australia's doubles aces, John B. Hawks and Gerald B. Patterson, routed Zenso Shimizu and Takeichi Harada of Japan in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 9-7.

World Champs Lose 11-Inning Game to Tigers

DETROIT, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Wingo's triple off Coveleskie in the eleventh, followed by three successive bases on balls by Marberry, who relieved him, gave Detroit a 1 to 0 victory over Washington yesterday, in the series opener. Aside from a double by Bassler, the triple was the only real hit Detroit got off the veteran Senator.

Joe Judge, Washington first baseman, was in a hospital today with a concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull from being hit by a pitched ball in the second inning. By innings: R H E

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Chicago defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 8 to 2, in the first game of the series here. It was the fifth consecutive defeat for Connie Mack's club. Sheeley and Mostil led the Chicago attack, Sheeley having a perfect day with four hits. Faber pitched a good game and was given perfect support. By innings: R H E
